EX-CONVICT SURRENDERS — After surrendering meekly at a besieged home in Charleston, Ill., where he had kept his half-sister captive at gun point for almost 16 hours, ex-convict Kenneth Adkins (center,
fied newsman. In the lower photo the hostage, Mrs. Nyra Kennedy, 34, weeps in the arms of her husband, Virgil Kennedy, a farm laborer.
Adkins apparently hoped to trade Mrs. Kennedy's safety for a chance to kill a hated Charleston policeman, Capt. Logan Cox.

Louisiana Governor Slated To Be Returned to His Home

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs.
Earl K. Long arrived in a Louisiana Air National Guard plane today to take her husband, the Louisiana governor, back home.
Mrs. Long was accompanied by three doctors, Maj. Gen. Raymond Huff, and Mrs. William Lockhart, the governor's executive secretary. Huff is adjutant general of Louisiana.
Mrs. Long told newsmen that soon as things can be gotten ready, they would leave.
Long shouted to newsmen from his second floor room in the psychiatric clinic of John Sealy Hospital earlier today that the group would leave for Oschner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans at 11 a.m.

Clarification Asked on Blue Law in Parks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon says some clarification is needed of Gov. Michael V. Di-Salle's decree that all state parks and fairs must abide by Ohio's blue laws.
DiSalle has said that the blue laws—which generally ban all but necessary work on Sundays—apply to concession stands at state parks and fairs.
Eagon says that this means that hotels and dining lodges operated by concessionaires at state parks must also close Sundays.
Courts have held that hotels and eating places are considered businesses of necessity and thus are exempted from blue laws.
But Eagon apparently feels that DiSalle's decree on concession operations should specify if all or only certain park concessions are affected by the blue laws.
The director asked his department's chief counsel Tuesday to prepare a detailed report on the situation.

Ohio Senate Starts Chipping At 'Blue Laws'

Upper House Gives OK To Sunday Fishing; Scooter Bill Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For 160 years, Sunday fishermen have been risking the wrath of the Ohio law. But, if you go fishing next Sunday, you will have the support of the Ohio Senate.

In the first major breach of the state's Sunday "blue law" wall, the Senate passed Tuesday and sent to the House a bill to repeal a law prohibiting Sunday fishing which antedates Ohio statehood.

A number of other moves to chip the wings of Sunday blue laws are afoot, including a couple of proposals to repeal them outright.

The Ohio Senate calendar today includes a House-approved measure to end the state's practice of issuing motor scooter operators' licenses to 14 and 15-year-olds. The proposal is to limit licenses for operation of low-power scooters and motorcycles to those 16 years old and older—the same as for auto operation.

Two major bills on the legislative program of Gov. Michael V.
DiSalle squeaked by in the Legislature Tuesday.

With only two votes to spare, the House passed 72-57 and sent to the Senate a bill to permit use of trust funds of the teachers', public employees' and school employees' retirement systems plus the workmen's compensation system for advance purchase of highway right-of-way.

And the Senate had only one vote to spare when it passed and sent to the House a bill to abolish about 35 rotary funds in state departments and turn the money they now hold over to the treasury. The vote was 18-11.

The rotary funds, opposed by many legislators who represent the fact they are not controlled by the General Assembly, generally represent the routine income and outgo of state departments from fees and other state charges and spending. Sen. Fred Harter (D-Summit) promised there will be legislative appropriations for the normal spending from rotary funds.

Final enactment of the bill to authorize use of trust funds for advance purchase of right-of-way would make more than 100 million dollars available—10 per cent of the aggregate capital held by the trust funds. The aim is to save the state millions of dollars through purchase of highway land before improvements run the cost sky-high.

6 Ex-Batista Soldiers Grab Plane to U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I was in the front, near the pilot's station, when I heard someone talking rough in Spanish," said Gabriel Hajian.

"I turned to look and I saw this dark man with dark glasses and a shiny gun."
Hajian was describing the flight of 30 terrified passengers, including several Americans, on a hijacked Cubana Airlines plane Tuesday night.

"He talked like a crazy man—fast, fast. He kept mentioning Miami to the pilot. At first the pilot shook his head, but the man put the gun close to the pilot's head. Then the pilot turned and banked the plane and the man with the gun smiled."

Women sat terrified, their hands over their eyes, during most of the 75-minute flight from Havana with the six soldiers from former Cuban President Fulgencio Ba-tista's army in command, Hajian said.

Hajian, 26, an engineer from New Haven, Conn., said the leader, identified as Lt. Maurillo Francisco Marques-Lopez, 20, from Camaguey, kept waving the gun and looking around as if he expected someone to shoot him.
"But the closer we got to Miami —or I guess it was the farther away we got from Cuba—the calmer he got," Hajian added.

Names of other Americans aboard were unavailable.
When the plane landed at Miami
International Airport, Marques-Lopez and five others asked political asylum.

U.S. Navy Plane Crew Tells of Swift Attack by Communist MIG Jet Fliers

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A U.S. Navy plane crew told today how Communist MIG fighters raked their patrol plane with 15 to 20 bursts of machinegun fire and sent it limping home with two of its four engines out and one of the 14 crewmen wounded.

The airmen told a news conference two "or possibly three" Red-starred jets—their nationality still a mystery—had swooped down suddenly on the turbo-prop P4M Mercator while it was over international waters, 45 miles off the east coast of North Korea Tuesday.

The tail gun was knocked out and the gunner wounded on the second of six Communist runs before he could open fire. The plane's two other 20mm. machine-guns were unable to fire because of missing parts.

The attack was broken off as the plane started to limp back to Japan. It was met by two Air Force Sabre jet fighters that answered its call for help, but the MIGs had vanished long before.

The injured tail gunner, Aviation Electronics Mate 2.C. Donald E. Corder, 20, of Jacksonville and Farmer City, Ill., suffered more than 40 painful but not critical wounds from shrapnel and flying plexiglass. He was hit in the neck, arms and hands, and suffered a fracture of the kneecap and a head wound.

Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, commander of U.S. naval forces in Japan, said emphatically U.S. patrols would continue in the area.

"We are not going to admit that the sea of Japan is a Russian lake," he declared.

But the admiral said he did not plan to send fighter escorts for the patrol planes, explaining "that would be more provocative than useful."

Withington said it was the first time a Navy aircraft had been so badly damaged and still returned to base. In 11 previous brushes between Communist and American planes in the Far East, some Air Force crews have made it home, but previous Navy planes have been lost.

The admiral interrupted the news conference to read a telegram from Washington awarding the Distinguished Flying Cross to the plane's 35-year-old commander, Lt. Cmdr. Donald R. Mayer of Litchfield, Conn., for his feat in bringing his aircraft and crew back.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, U.S. chief of naval operations, also sent a commendation message to the entire crew. Withington said Corder, the wounded man, will get the Purple Heart and appropriate decorations or commendations will go to the rest of the crew.

The plane was starting home to its base at Iwakuni, 500 miles west of Tokyo, from a routine radio mission when the jets attacked.
The navigator, Lt. John Dennis Malone of Park Ridge, Ill., said he had just fixed his position by radar at 45 miles from the North Korean coast.

The first warning came from Corder over the intercom system:
"Sighted two sweep-wing jets."
Then: "They're firing at us!"
"I gave the order to fire," said Mayer, "but the communications were bad and Corder didn't get the order on the first run. On the second run, before he got the range, he was hit."

As Mayer dived the plane from 7,000 feet to within 50 feet of the ocean, the Communists made four more passes behind him. Firing on at least three of the runs, they peppered the 86-foot-long plane with 15 to 20 bursts, some with .60 caliber armor-piercing bullets.
"We were not close enough to see the pilots," said Radarman 1.C. Floyd W. McClintock of Richfield, Ohio. "They broke off from their runs probably 200 feet behind our aircraft."

"It seemed an awful long time, but I guess it was from 10 to 15 minutes before it all ended," Mayer reported.

In Washington, the State Department denounced the Communist attack as unwarranted and vicious. A formal protest was planned as soon as it could be determined whose planes had made the attack.

Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson charged the attack had been deliberately timed to create tension at the current critical stage in the Geneva foreign ministers' conference.

Constant Snoring Brings Freedom to Jailbird in Cincy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Sleepy Travis Zellis, 28, literally snored his way out of the county jail Tuesday.

Zellis had been given a 90-day sentence May 1 for stealing an amplifier from a night club.

But soon after Zellis was jailed, Judge Simon L. Zellis and probation officials began receiving calls from Charles Junker, the jail warden; Joseph Hesselbrock, his assistant, and Sheriff Dan Tahan.

It seemed that Zellis snored day and night. He couldn't stay awake on any job. He snored so much during the day that other prisoners couldn't work and made so much noise at night they couldn't sleep.

Judge Leis and the Hamilton County Probation Department decided he had to be released—on three months' probation.

U.S. Envoy Huddles

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney met today with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan as rumors swept London that a meeting between the British leader and President Eisenhower is imminent.

Official government sources declined to disclose the nature of the talk, but they insisted there is no plan for Macmillan and Eisenhower to meet at this time.

President Says Chance Dim on Summit Parley

U.S. Chieftain Ready For Big Powwow if Any Progress Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Geneva foreign ministers talks seem to have reached an impasse, and prospects for a summit conference are no brighter.

The President told a news conference, however, that he still would be willing to go to a heads-of-government meeting if any kind of reasonable progress can be made at Geneva.

And, Eisenhower said in response to a question, that he doesn't necessarily mean there must be progress specifically on the Berlin situation.

He said he has in mind any kind of reasonable progress on East-West problems generally.

The President was asked whether he believes that prospects for a summit conference have grown dimmer in the last couple of weeks.

He replied that prospects certainly have not brightened. He said the Geneva talks seem to have reached an impasse—or at least an unreadiness for fruitful discussion.

A bit later the President was asked whether his idea of progress at Geneva is that there must be some advance toward resolving differences over Berlin.

Eisenhower said he never had meant to tie the prospects for a summit conference to the Berlin situation exclusively.

He added that if the foreign ministers talks can make such progress as to result in a profitable summit conference, he would be glad to attend a heads-of-government session.

Eisenhower spoke out against any idea that the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia lack sufficient authority to achieve progress.

Any acceptance of such a thesis, he said, would make traditional diplomacy useless.

The news conference drew 228 reporters for Eisenhower's discussion of the Geneva talks and these other matters:

STEEL — Eisenhower rejected the idea of calling steel management and union representatives to a White House conference in a move to smash the deadlock in contract talks.

That course has been advocated by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).
The President said that for the government to get into that picture — for it to apply political or other kinds of pressure — would do more to hurt the situation than help it.

Eisenhower said once again that both management and the steel workers union must recognize the great danger of touching off any new inflationary spiral.

NAVY PLANE — This government still does not know the nationality of the Communist jet fighter which attacked a U.S.
Navy patrol plane over the Sea of Japan Monday.

One member of the crew was seriously wounded in the encounter.

Eisenhower was asked for comment on reports the U.S. crew-men were unable to fire back because of missing gun parts.

He replied that the whole episode is being studied carefully.

The President added he has no new information on the incident at this point but that it is a matter which causes him great concern as a former military man.

As for whether the episode was timed deliberately to increase East-West tensions, Eisenhower said it did seem to be a strange coincidence that the attack occurred at a time when the Geneva talks are going on.

But, he added, he did not care to speculate regarding motive.

OLYMPIC GAMES — The International Olympic Games Committee seems to be getting into politics, rather than dealing exclusively with international athletics, Eisenhower said.

He made that remark when asked for comment on the committee's refusal to recognize Nationalist China, as such, as one of the nations which will participate in the 1960 games.

The committee has ruled that the Nationalist regime's athletes must participate as representatives of Formosa.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For 160 years, Sunday fishermen have been risking the wrath of the Ohio law. But, if you go fishing next Sunday, you will have the support of the Ohio Senate.

Final enactment of the bill to authorize use of trust funds for advance purchase of right-of-way would make more than 100 million dollars available—10 per cent of the aggregate capital held by the trust funds. The aim is to save the state millions of dollars through purchase of highway land before improvements run the cost sky-high.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I was in the front, near the pilot's station, when I heard someone talking rough in Spanish," said Gabriel Hajian.

When the plane landed at Miami International Airport, Marques-Lopez and five others asked political asylum.

U.S. Navy Plane Crew Tells of Swift Attack by Communist MIG Jet Fliers

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A U.S. Navy plane crew told today how Communist MIG fighters raked their patrol plane with 15 to 20 bursts of machinegun fire and sent it limping home with two of its four engines out and one of the 14 crewmen wounded.

The airmen told a news conference two "or possibly three" Red-starred jets—their nationality still a mystery—had swooped down suddenly on the turbo-prop P4M Mercator while it was over inter-

He was hit in the neck, arms and hands, and suffered a fracture of the kneecap and a head wound.

Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, commander of U.S. naval

"We were not close enough to see the pilots," said Radarman 1.C. Floyd W. McClintick of Richfield, Ohio. "They broke off from their runs probably 200 feet behind our aircraft."

"It seemed an awful long time, but I guess it was from 10 to 15 minutes before it all ended," Mayer reported.

In Washington, the State Department denounced the Communist attack as unwarranted and vicious. A formal protest was planned as soon as it could be determined whose planes had made the attack.

Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson charged the attack had been deliberately timed to create tension at the current critical stage in the Geneva foreign ministers' conference.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—

New invasion threats from two directions were threats from two night by President Luis Somoza, whose government has just finished off a group of rebels that invaded Nicaragua two weeks ago.

The 37-year-old president, whose family has ruled this Central American republic for 23 years, said one new set of invaders is based in Honduras and consists of about 50 men.

He was not certain whether it had actually crossed Nicaragua's northern border and sent units of his well trained army to check.

The other group is getting ready to strike with about 200 men from neighboring Costa Rica, probably in about two weeks, Somoza said.

He said the Honduras-based group is under the command of Rafael Somarriba, a Nicaraguan National Guard lieutenant 19 years ago. Somoza charged it was formed and trained in Cuba of mercenaries from several Caribbean countries.

He claimed both groups contain members of the Caribbean Legion, an outfit purportedly dedicated to the overthrow of dictatorships.

The contingent in Honduras, he charged, is financed by Communists and armed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Somoza said the Costa Rican group is at Santa Elena Bay, near the border of Nicaragua. He charged that force is backed by Marcial Aguiluz, a Costa Rican congressman.

Council Considers Boosts Of City Employee Salaries

Salaries of some city employees would be boosted if Council passes ordinance put in the hopper at last night's regular session.

The salary ordinances, result of a survey by a Council committee, in effect boost police wages about 7 per cent and firemen's salaries about 5 per cent.

Employees of the divisions of water and sewage also would get pay raises.

All ordinances were placed on first reading by the solons. They will be heard again at the next regular session, July 7.

The proposed ordinances would increase wages as follows:

POLICE CHIEF—from $4,320 to $4,622 annually; sergeants in 90-day probationary period from $325 a month to $347.75; sergeants after probation from $330 a month to $353.10; after two years, $335 to $358.45; after three years, from $340 to $363.80; after four years, from $345 to $369.15, and after five years from $350 to $374.50;

Patrolmen, on entering force, $285 to $304.95; after a year, $313 to $334.91; after two years, from $316 to $338.12; after three years, $319 to $341.33; after four years, from $322 to $344.54, and after five years from $325 to $347.75.

Fire Chief—from $4,080 annually to $4,536; lieutenants, from $3,780 to $3,969; starting firemen, from $3,300 to $3,465; after three months, from $3,420 to $3,591, and after a year, from $3,600 to $3,780.

Division of Water distribution superintendent, from $325 a month to $340; maintenancemen, from $290 to $315; meter reader, from $290 to $315; resident pump station operator, from $275 to $285; pump station operator, from $300 to $315; bookkeeper-cashier, $220 a month.

Division of Sewage chief operator, from $350 a month to $375; operators, from $300 to $320, and bookkeeper-cashier, $100 a month.

Other ordinances dealing with the wage boosts, placed on first reading, would boost the hourly rate for special policemen from $1.40 an hour to $1.50; set overtime pay for lieutenants and regular firemen at 10 per cent above the regular wage; and would appropriate $810 from water works operating fund to salaries account, and $510 from sewer rental fund to salaries, to meet the additional payroll if the wage boosts are passed.

The last wage increases granted by Council were approved Dec. 12, 1957. Council has been asked several times in the last six months to boost wages, principally by members of the Police and Fire Departments.

Nicaragua Fears Pair Of Invasions

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—

New invasion threats from two directions were threats from two night by President Luis Somoza, whose government has just finished off a group of rebels that invaded Nicaragua two weeks ago.

The 37-year-old president, whose family has ruled this Central American republic for 23 years, said one new set of invaders is based in Honduras and consists of about 50 men.

He was not certain whether it had actually crossed Nicaragua's northern border and sent units of his well trained army to check.

The other group is getting ready to strike with about 200 men from neighboring Costa Rica, probably in about two weeks, Somoza said.

He said the Honduras-based group is under the command of Rafael Somarriba, a Nicaraguan National Guard lieutenant 19 years ago. Somoza charged it was formed and trained in Cuba of mercenaries from several Caribbean countries.

He claimed both groups contain members of the Caribbean Legion, an outfit purportedly dedicated to the overthrow of dictatorships.

The contingent in Honduras, he charged, is financed by Communists and armed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Somoza said the Costa Rican group is at Santa Elena Bay, near the border of Nicaragua. He charged that force is backed by Marcial Aguiluz, a Costa Rican congressman.

City Council Handed First Master Plan Legislation

First official step towards adopting the city's new Master Plan was handed Council last night.

A resolution of necessity, recognizing that it is necessary to formulate several laws to bring the plan into existence, was placed before the solons. They placed the resolution on its first reading.

The resolution, in effect, puts Council on record as favoring adoption of the Master Plan in principle. Actually it only calls for recognizing that a zoning ordinance, thoroughfare plan and subdivision regulations must be passed before the plan is operative.

Passage of the resolution was recommended by the City Planning group of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber has underwritten the cost of the Master Plan which was developed by a graduate City Design class at Miami University and presented to the citizens April 20.

Council To Try Annexation Again

City Council last night agreed that attempts should be made to annex a smaller area than initially proposed along the south and east sides of the city.

Ludwig Heacker, chairman of the City Planning and Zoning Commission, asked the lawmakers last night if the body felt a new attempt should be made to annex an area adjacent to the city.

Monday the Pickaway County Commissioners refused a petition for annexation of a tract which extended from the present city limits south and from Kingston Pike to Route 23, including the General Electric plant and the Isaac and Moats Additions.

The refusal was on grounds that the petition did not show sufficient signatures to represent a majority of the freeholders in the area.

Most of the opposition to annexation came from the Isaac and Moats Additions. However, those opposed said they would withdraw objections to annexation, if their areas were left out of the proposal.

COUNCIL last night agreed to submit a new annexation petition, deleting the Isaac and Moats Additions. The new line would eliminate the area from the Pennsylvania Railroad south to Ohio St. and from Renick Ave. east to Kingston Pike.

The balance of the area to be annexed would be the same.

In other action Council passed an ordinance appropriating $150 from the General Fund for Fire Department fuel, light and supplies, and $360 from General Fund

EX-CONVICT SURRENDERS — After surrendering meekly at a besieged home in Charleston, Ill., where he had kept his half-sister captive at gun point for almost 16 hours, ex-convict Kenneth Adkins (center, top photo), 22, is shown a kidnapping warrant by Coles County sheriff's deputy Jim Warpenburg (right). Man at left is an unidentified newsman. In the lower photo the hostage, Mrs. Nyra Kennedy, 34, weeps in the arms of her husband, Virgil Kennedy, a farm laborer. Adkins apparently hoped to trade Mrs. Kennedy's safety for a chance to kill a hated Charleston policeman, Capt. Logan Cox.

Louisiana Governor Slated To Be Returned to His Home

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Earl K. Long arrived in a Louisiana Air National Guard plane today to take her husband, the Louisiana governor, back home.

Mrs. Long was accompanied by three doctors, Maj. Gen. Raymond Hufft, and Mrs. William Lockhart, the governor's executive secretary. Hufft is adjutant general of Louisiana.

Mrs. Long told newsmen that soon as things can be gotten ready, they would leave.

Long shouted to newsmen from his second floor room in the psychiatric clinic of John Sealy Hospital earlier today that the group would leave for Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans at 11 a.m.

Clarification Asked on Blue Law in Parks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon says some clarification is needed of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's decree that all state parks and fairs must abide by Ohio's blue laws.

DiSalle has said that the blue laws—which generally ban all but necessary work on Sundays—apply to concession stands at state parks and fairs.

Eagon asks if this means that hotels and dining lodges operated by concessionaires at state parks must also close Sundays.

Courts have held that hotels and eating places are considered businesses of necessity and thus are exempted from blue laws.

But Eagon apparently feels that DiSalle's decree on concession operations should specify if all or only certain park concessions are affected by the blue laws.

The director asked his department's chief counsel Tuesday to prepare a detailed report on the situation.

DeValera Favored In Irish Election

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Irish voted for a new president today, and nearly blind old Eamon de Valera appeared a shoo-in choice for the ceremonial job by a majority of at least 200,000.

Retiring from active politics, the 77-year-old statesman ran against Gen. Sean Maccoinn, like De Valera a veteran of the fight for independence from Britain.

Only about three fourths of Ireland's 1,700,000 voters were expected to turn out to choose between the candidates and also decide whether Ireland should keep the election system of proportional representation. Counting of votes will not begin until Thursday.

DiSalle Replies To Union Gripe

Chief Says New Tax Not Aimed at Worker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today answered a labor official's claim that administration tax increases "are all aimed primarily at workers."

Raymond J. Russo of Youngstown, recording secretary of a Steelworkers Union local, made the claim in a telegram sent to the governor Saturday.

Russo said more than 4,000 members of his local urged DiSalle to sign a corporation franchise tax increase bill before Monday.

That date was the deadline for filing corporation tax returns for 1958. By waiting until Tuesday to sign the newly enacted legislation, DiSalle said a 30-million-dollar annual increase in franchise fees would start this year and not apply to 1958 payments.

"Our members request that you sign this corporation franchise tax (and) save the 30 million dollars and use these monies to begin a fund for unemployment compensation for strikers," the telegram read.

"If you fail to do this, we will have additional proof of your allegiance to the people of wealth and not to labor."

Russo cited tax increases on cigarettes, gasoline, liquor and a pending $2.50 increase in auto license fees as increases aimed at workers.

DiSalle said in a reply released today to newsmen:

"Let me say first that my allegiance is to the state of Ohio and to all of its people regardless of whether they are members of labor, or whether they employ labor, or whether they are earning their livelihood on the farm or in the stores or . . . if they are the retired people, the aged, the sick, the handicapped, the mentally ill."

DiSalle asserted it was the intent of the Legislature when it increased Ohio's one-mill corporation franchise tax to three mills, to apply the increase to future taxes.

"You say that other taxes are levied primarily on workers. Might I point out that they are levied primarily on the uses of liquor, cigarettes and beer. There is no intention to make this a workers' tax."

"The $2.50 addition to the auto license tax was not sponsored by the administration. This tax, if passed, would be returned to local governments and could not be used by the state."

"Your last statement that the money be used to begin a fund for strikers is one that really defies the imagination. We have an unemployment compensation fund."

Klumpff Jury Sees Pictures Of Victim's Burned Body

CINCINNATI (AP)—Despite defense objections, the jury in Edy Klumpff's murder trial today saw pictures of the burned body of Louise Bergen.

The pictures were projected on a screen alongside the jury box as Dr. Frank Cleveland, Hamilton County pathologist, gave a detailed description of the condition of the body.

Mrs. Klumpff, who wept while the screen and projector were being set up, is accused of shooting and bludgeoning Mrs. Bergen last Oct. 30 and then burning the body the next day. She had been living with Mrs. Bergen's husband, William, and wanted to marry him.

Spectators who packed the courtroom were unable to see the pictures. The rear of the screen was turned toward them.

Before they were shown, Judge Frank M. Gusweiler warned that the courtroom would be cleared if there was any demonstration.

In answer to a question by Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hoyer, Dr. Cleveland said: "In my opinion, Louise Bergen died of fractures of the skull, injuries to the brain and hemorrhages as the result of multiple impacts to the head."

Dr. Cleveland also was questioned about a second autopsy he performed Nov. 19. That was after Mrs. Klumpff had been arrested and had made a statement that Mrs. Bergen was shot as they grappled for a pistol.

Dr. Cleveland said that on the second examination "I found a metallic fragment—a thin sliver of metal . . ."

The state contends the gunshot caused one of the skull fractures. It also has accused Mrs. Klumpff of bludgeoning Mrs. Bergen with the pistol.

In his opening statement to the jury Monday, Hopkins contended the reason for the second autopsy "was the mistakes made in the first one." He called the autopsies "carelessly performed."

Other witnesses on the available list today include Robert Klumpff, divorced husband of Mrs. Klumpff; Clarence Bowen, a filling station attendant, and Fred Haste of suburban Reading.

Haste may be a key witness in the state's contention that Mrs. Klumpff was well acquainted with the secluded dead end street in Caldwell Park where the shooting took place.

In his opening statement Monday, Assistant County Prosecutor Harry C. Schoettner made brief mention that Mrs. Klumpff had been to the spot many times "with Fred Haste."

Bowen is the teen-age filling station attendant the state claims used to burn Mrs. Bergen's body.

The state ran through 13 witnesses Tuesday in such rapid order that court was adjourned an hour early. Hoyer had no other witnesses available to testify at that time.

Most of the testimony established the facts surrounding the discovery and identification of Mrs. Bergen's body.

Vote Expense Deadline Due

The Pickaway County Board of Elections today reminded all May 5 primary candidates that Friday is the deadline for filing statements of expenditures.

The election board reported that five candidates have failed to file their statements to date. The election board office closes at 4 p. m. Friday.

Failure of candidates to file election expenses by Friday shall disqualify such persons from being candidates in any future election for five years.

If a successful candidate fails to file his election expenses he cannot assume office. Candidates must file statements of expenditures even if they didn't have any expenses.

If a candidate spent more than $25 toward his election, he must accompany his statement of expenditures with receipts.

Darby Twp. Plagued by Sheep Killers

In recent months Darby Twp. sheep raisers have been plagued by sheep killing dogs that have taken a heavy toll of this wool bearing livestock.

This fact was brought out Monday when the Pickaway County Commissioners approved sheep claims of $1,275.85 for county sheep owners.

According to state statute, the County Commissioners must approve all animal claims of county residents when their animals have been slain by dogs or other animal killers.

The Commissioners disapproved two claims because their owners had failed to declare livestock on their personal property tax.

ONE FARMER was found to have never paid personal property tax on his livestock or farm equipment, stating, "He didn't know he had to."

The Commissioners said this matter would be rectified immediately. They cautioned all livestock owners that no claims will be paid if their livestock does not appear on their personal property tax duplicate.

The Commissioners urged all farmers to turn in accurate livestock values if they expect to have their animal claims honored.

Chief Wise Attends Disaster Briefing

'Superman' Becomes Sad Is Suicide

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Reeves was Superman to millions of television fans—but not to himself.

The husky 45-year-old actor committed suicide Tuesday moments after his fiancée predicted in jest: "He's going to shoot himself."

Reeves, a jut-jawed natural for the role of Superman, was selected to portray the cape-flying marvel nine years ago.

Television filming of the Superman series stopped a year and a half ago with 105 episodes completed.

Friends said the series brought Reeves financial security (he was paid for each TV showing) and some fame—but not fulfillment as an actor.

Reeves and his house guests — Miss Lemmon, 35, an erstwhile New York cafe society figure, and writer Robert Condon, 45, retired to their respective bedrooms late Monday night. They were awakened about 2:30 a. m. by two friends, William Bliss and Mrs. R. P. Van Ronkel. Reeves argued with Bliss over the lateness of the hour, then went upstairs.

Miss Lemmon blurted: "He's going to shoot himself." A noise was heard upstairs. She continued, inexplicably: "He's opening a drawer to get the gun." A shot was heard. "See there — I told you!" she exclaimed.

They found Reeves' nude body on his bed, a bullet in his temple.

Eastern Telephone Decision Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Utilities Commission is expected to decide in the next month or so whether to grant a rate increase sought by Eastern Telephone Service Co.

Eastern wants about $127,000 more a year. The company serves Ashtabula, Athens, Morgan, Perry, Trumbull and Washington counties.

Hearings on the application closed April 30, but commission consideration of the matter was delayed until the company submitted data on expected revenue from long distance calls on its equipment, and accounting procedures for interest during construction.

Whose Ox Is Gored?

After the unending parade of unsavory characters posing as labor leaders before the McClellan committee—many of whom were so arrogantly defiant of the government which has permitted them to mock it that they refused even to acknowledge such fundamental information as their names—there should not be one American who will not admit that United States workers are desperately in need of legal strength to combat the little Caesars and racketeers who are using many of the citizens of the country as pawns in personal empires.

Should one be naively inclined to pass off these underworld characters as unimportant in the whole scheme of labor unions, the image of Jimmy Hoffa should provide sufficient impetus for a clamor for corrective legislation. To deny the worker legal safeguards, backed by the strength of the federal government, is to openly invite the long history of kickbacks, graft, embezzlement of union funds, rigged elections and so forth to become even more grotesque.

Hoffa and the evils exposed by congressional investigations are the two most publicized reminders that all is not well in organizations supposedly representing the best interests of American labor. But there are isolated instances appearing frequently which follow the same paths blazed by the Becks and the Hoffas.

An incident has been provoked in California by the International Association of Machanists which proves to what dangerous concepts even those unions which have not been tainted by public exposure of wrongdoing have been moved by the free-wheeling disregard of their more notorious brethren.

During the bitter fight waged in California last November over the right to work proposition—that is, the right of the worker to employment whether or not he joins a union—members of the IAM and other unions actively supported the proposition, in opposition to extensive campaigns conducted by their own unions.

A "trial" was held by the local to which three of these men belonged, and they were expelled for "conduct unbecoming union members." The president of the IAM, Albert J. Hayes of Washington, D. C., upheld the ejections, which means the men must forfeit their jobs in a union aircraft plant. President Hayes' logic in approving the ejections was that constitutional guarantees of free speech do not encompass the right "to openly denounce and his own union organization."

Would Hayes then agree that no citizen has the right to mount a platform and debate against a law on the books merely because that statute is supported by a majority of legal experts? Or, specifically, does Hayes deny himself the right to castigate a law which may yet be passed by Congress to give the members of his and other unions closer control over the funds they have entrusted to their officers?

Any organization not strong enough to permit opposing viewpoints, and which attempts to crush all who oppose the ruling dictum, deserves a suspicious glance by a free society. The suspicion grows when the rulers defend the right to extinguish critics.

La Belle France Again La Belle

By Hal Boyle

PARIS (AP)—Leaves from a touring notebook:

Those who have been weeping for La Belle France can dry their tears and throw away the crying towel.

She is again the belle of Europe.

Those who remember a France prostrate from World War II would hardly recognize her now.

The air of suspicion has disappeared. A fresh air of self-confidence is evident everywhere. The sound of the builder's hammer echoes from one end of the country to the other. Industry is rapidly being modernized. Tall apartment dwellings are rising to house the new generation of a more hopeful France.

"The standard of living here has been rising faster for the last six years than it has in America," said a veteran U.S. business leader.

"The French standard of living is now higher than that of Britain or West Germany," said a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy. "It is the highest in Europe."

Most observers seem to feel that a developing financial stability under the leadership of President Charles de Gaulle has accelerated France's economic betterment. This view also seems shared by most Frenchmen, even by those who disagree with De Gaulle politically.

If there is any strong anti-Americanism among the French today, it isn't visible to the average U.S. tourist. His welcome may not be effusive—the French rarely throw their hats in the air at the sight of strangers—but it will be cordial and polite.

"Recent polls show Germans now are the most popular foreign visitors among the French," said U.S. Minister Cecil Lyon. "Americans are second, British third,

Italians fourth, Russians are the least popular."

Why should the French so willingly extend the glad hand to the Germans less than 15 years after the close of the last great war?

Lyon feels it is a result of two things: Closer economic ties, and De Gaulle's open admiration for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany.

The tourist gets about 17 per cent more for his money now than he did before the devaluation of the franc. But France is still no Mecca for the retired man seeking a place to live cheaply.

"The necessities of life here are still relatively high," said one resident. "A meal that costs a dollar in Washington or New York would cost $2 to $3 in Paris."

"But luxury is relatively cheap. An evening in a Parisian night club costs about a fourth as much as an evening in a Manhattan night spot."

Olympic Decision Not Sporting

By George Sokolsky

Somebody in the International Olympic Committee goofed and the United States International Olympic Committee ought, in justice to itself and to sportsmanship in general, forthwith resign from the whole business and let the Russians have it.

For this is what has happened. Despite the fact that the United States does not recognize Red China and does recognize Nationalist China, the International Olympic Committee ousted Nationalist China from membership.

Despite the fact that the United Nations does not recognize Red China, the International Olympic Committee does.

The face-saving device is that Red China will not participate until 1964 when the games will be held in Tokyo, but why should Nationalist China attend for one day after it has been so startlingly insulted.

The 1960 winter contests of the International Olympic Committee are to be held in Squaw Valley, California, which is still in the United States, and those who come to the games require American visas to get into the country. If those visas are refused by the State Department, it will be proof that the State Department still conducts the foreign policy of the United States. If any athletes from Red China claim a right to participate, how can they get visas?

Avery Brundage of Chicago is president of the International Olympic Committee. He said in an interview that the expulsion of Nationalist China was "almost unanimous" in the vote of the committee. From that it is to be assumed that the "almost"

means that the American members of the committee did not vote in favor of such an outrageous proposition.

But Brundage and other members of the United States committee will be asking the American people to contribute funds for this committee and for the show at Squaw Valley. It would be a mark of disapproval if Americans avoided contributing to such an organization which deliberately flouts American policy and bows to Russian might.

This is a small matter. The Olympic Games have lost particularly those behind the caste because some countries, Iron Curtain, have a different definition of "amateur" than we do. In a Communist country, where there is no private enterprise, everybody works for the State.

A man who devotes himself to athletics is neither an amateur nor a professional in such a country. He is, in effect, a citizen who works for the State. He actually serves the State by engaging in a form of nationalistic propaganda by demonstrating, which Russia seeks to do, its superiority in every field of human endeavor.

In Western countries, amateur standing is altogether different. It means that a person devotes his spare time to a sport; that he receives no compensation for his sports activities. In fact, at certain periods of American moral rigidity, if an amateur athlete accepted any gift he was barred from non-professional sports.

Actually, it was the American colleges which lowered the morals of sportsmanship by providing "athletic scholarships" to football players and such, thus establishing the rule that compensation to amateurs is permissible if called by another name.

Racketeers got into the basketball business and corrupted that. Baseball became entirely professional. Nevertheless, there is still, in the Western world, considerable amateur sportsmanship and while sports do not have the widespread appeal that they had before movies and television and the automobile attracted youngsters, contests in the games continue.

What the International Olympic Committee has done is a basically unsportsmanlike act. Soviet Russia trains hordes of men and women for the Olympic Games, making such participation a full-time job. By definition, there can be no amateurs in a Communist country because a person's time is the property of the State.

Soviet Russia is mighty; Nationalist China is small and weak. The International Olympic Committee agrees to abide by the will of the strong and, in effect, tells the weak that if they want to participate in the Olympic Games, they must change—their name may no longer be China.

It is like telling an athlete with a non-WASP name that he must change it to be acceptable. This is not sport; it is politics and the International Olympic Committee does not exist for politics.

One of the curses of our age is that politics touches everything and every man regards himself as a diplomat, playing his own game, as though he really knew how.

Cleveland, Ohio's Municipal Stadium is the largest ball park in the United States, having a seating capacity of 80,000 people. Cleveland is the home of two professional teams, the Cleveland Indians and Cleveland Browns.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THEY TELL ABOUT a Texas housewife who decided to dye her curtains blue, and set up a big vat in the back yard for the work in hand. In the midst of the operation, a frisky white lamb fell into the vat, and when it was fished out, it was a wondrous shade of blue.

A passing motorist fell in love with the little blue lamb at once, and paid the startled housewife about four times what it was worth to cart it off. "Maybe I've got something here," figured the housewife, and promptly threw three more lambskins into the vat. Sure enough, they were sold to motorists in jig time.

So today, ladies and gentlemen, that sweet little housewife is the biggest lamb dyer in Texas.

Last time the temperature hit 95 degrees, the inevitable sage remarked, "It isn't the heat; it's the humidity." A publisher slapped him down with, "For the love of Mike, stop riding around in that one-horse cliché!"

Signs of Early Pregnancy

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Over the years we have discussed just about every type of sign and symptom except one.

Today I would like to complete the list, so let's talk about the symptoms of pregnancy.

Now don't laugh at this. The question of "Pregnant or not?" is of major importance to women and, of course, to their husbands, too. And it is a question that is not always easy to answer, at least not as quickly as the woman might desire.

Special tests have been devised to help physicians determine the answers, but these usually require a certain amount of time. Usually, the possible parents are anxious to learn the truth.

The following symptoms are generally a pretty good indication that a baby is on the way.

The cessation of the monthly period is the most obvious. Yet, in itself, this is not always a dependable guide. Besides, other signs might appear even before the woman is sure that she has missed a couple of periods.

One of the most common symptoms is fatigue. This, of course, might simply mean that you aren't getting enough sleep, or it might be a symptom of some illness. But if you skip a period, and begin to feel lazy, it might be significant.

Another sign of early pregnancy is a noticeable increase in the frequency of urination.

Also, the breasts are likely to undergo a change. They will be sore and become much fuller than usual. If any of you women notice such a change, a closer examination is called for. Pay particular attention to the area around the nipple. If this is darker than it or dinarly is, it might indicate pregnancy.

Sometimes constipation is present.

And, of course, the traditional "morning sickness," if also present, just about settles the question.

This "morning sickness," I must point out, can mean vomiting any time during the day, although many expectant mothers experience nausea upon arising.

I don't mean to imply that these symptoms must be present in every case of pregnancy. But if they are, it's pretty safe to start selecting names.

Question and Answer

A Worried Friend: I have a friend, seventy years old, who has been told she has cataracts starting on her eyes. I have noticed a lighter ring around her eyes.

If this is true, how long will she be able to see?

Answer: Cataracts develop at different rates in different individuals. Surgery is usually successful in restoring vision in these cases, even in very old people.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Note to readers: Thanks for all the nice letters. As many questions as possible will be answered in this column, but for obvious reasons replies must be brief.

Q. As some people age they seem to become more and more neurotic and hard to get along with. Do they actually have all the ills they complain about?
A. Oldsters, like a lot of younger folks, may develop neurotic symptoms which show up as repeated complaints when nothing is physically wrong. One day it's "indigestion"—the next day it's "backache" or perhaps just vague pains here and there. They seem always preoccupied with the body or a part of the body believed to be out of kilter. The trouble is very likely borrowed from the past—childhood fears, growing up anxieties, and adult disappointments. The average oldster who has nothing more wrong than can be expected in later life very often needs a sympathetic listener and, above all, something of interest to occupy his time rather than actual treatment of mind or body.

Q. A competent electrologist has been giving me treatments for superfluous hair but the cost is high. I have been considering purchasing a home electric machine. Would this be advisable?
A. Removal of superfluous hair by electrical means is a tedious and time-consuming process and because of this it is likely to be expensive. Results obtained depend entirely upon the skill with which the machine is used. The chief danger is facial scarring and this could be more disfiguring than the hair. Before taking any steps on your own, discuss the pros and cons of the matter with your family physician or dermatologist.

Q. Several months ago my eyes became quite bloodshot. I used an eyewash but this didn't help. What do you suggest?

Whose Ox Is Gored?

After the unending parade of unsavory characters posing as labor leaders before the McClellan committee—many of whom were so arrogantly defiant of the government which has permitted them to mock it that they refused even to acknowledge such fundamental information as their names — there should not be one American who will not admit that United States workers are desperately in need of legal strength to combat the little Caesars and racketeers who are using many of the citizens of the country as pawns in personal empires.

Should one be naively inclined to pass off these underworld characters as unimportant in the whole scheme of labor unions, the image of Jimmy Hoffa should provide sufficient impetus for a clamor for corrective legislation. To deny the worker legal safeguards, backed by the strength of the federal government, is to openly invite the long history of kickbacks, graft, embezzlement of union funds, rigged elections and so forth to become even more grotesque.

Hoffa and the evils exposed by congressional investigations are the two most publicized reminders that all is not well in organizations supposedly representing the best interests of American labor. But there are isolated instances appearing frequently which follow the same paths blazed by the Becks and the Hoffas.

An incident has been provoked in California by the International Association of Machanists which proves to what dangerous concepts even those unions which have not been tainted by public exposure of wrongdoing have been moved by the free-wheeling disregard of their more notorious brethren.

During the bitter fight waged in California last November over the right to work proposition—that is, the right of the worker to employment whether or not he joins a union—members of the IAM and other unions actively supported the proposition, in opposition to extensive campaigns conducted by their own unions.

A "trial" was held by the local to which three of these men belonged, and they were expelled for "conduct unbecoming union members." The president of the IAM, Albert J. Hayes of Washington, D. C., upheld the ejections, which means the men must forfeit their jobs in a union aircraft plant. President Hayes' logic in approving the ejections was that constitutional guarantees of free speech do not encompass the right "to openly denounce and considered position of the labor movement and his own union organization."

Would Hayes then agree that no citizen has the right to mount a platform and debate against a law on the books merely because that statute is supported by a majority of legal experts? Or, specifically, does Hayes deny himself the right to castigate a law which may yet be passed by Congress to give the members of his and other unions closer control over the funds they have entrusted to their officers?

Any organization not strong enough to permit opposing viewpoints, and which attempts to crush all who oppose the ruling dictum, deserves a suspicious glance by a free society. The suspicion grows when the rulers defend the right to extinguish critics.

La Belle France Again La Belle

By Hal Boyle

PARIS (AP) — Leaves from a touring notebook:

Those who have been weeping for La Belle France can dry their tears and throw away the crying towel.

She is again the belle of Europe.

Those who remember a France prostrate from World War II would hardly recognize her now.

The air of suspicion has disappeared. A fresh air of self-confidence is evident everywhere. The sound of the builder's hammer echoes from one end of the country to the other. Industry is rapidly being modernized. Tall apartment dwellings are rising to house the new generation of a more hopeful France.

"The standard of living here has been rising faster for the last six years than it has in America," said a veteran U.S. business leader.

"The French standard of living is now higher than that of Britain or West Germany," said a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy. "It is the highest in Europe."

Most observers seem to feel that a developing financial stability under the leadership of President Charles de Gaulle has accelerated France's economic betterment. This view also seems shared by most Frenchmen, even by those who disagree with De Gaulle politically.

If there is any strong anti-Americanism among the French today, it isn't visible to the average U.S. tourist. His welcome may not be effusive—the French rarely throw their hats in the air at the sight of strangers—but it will be cordial and polite.

"Recent polls show Germans now are the most popular foreign visitors among the French," said U.S. Minister Cecil Lyon. "Americans are second, British third,

Italians fourth, Russians are the least popular."

Why should the French so willingly extend the glad hand to the Germans less than 15 years after the close of the last great war?

Lyon feels it is a result of two things: Closer economic ties, and De Gaulle's open admiration for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany.

The tourist gets about 17 percent more for his money now than he did before the devaluation of the franc. But France is still no Mecca for the retired man seeking a place to live cheaply.

"The necessities of life here are still relatively high," said one resident. "A meal that costs a dollar in Washington or New York would cost $2 to $3 in Paris."

"But luxury is relatively cheap. An evening in a Parisian night club costs about a fourth as much as an evening in a Manhattan night spot."

Olympic Decision Not Sporting

By George Sokolsky

Somebody in the International Olympic Committee goofed and the United States International Olympic Committee ought, in justice to itself and to sportsmanship in general, forthwith resign from the whole business and let the Russians have it.

For this is what has happened. Despite the fact that the United States does not recognize Red China and does recognize Nationalist China, the International Olympic Committee ousted Nationalist China from membership.

Despite the fact that the United Nations does not recognize Red China, the International Olympic Committee does.

The face-saving device is that Red China will not participate until 1964 when the games will be held in Tokyo, but why should Nationalist China attend for one day after it has been so startlingly insulted.

The 1960 winter contests of the International Olympic Committee are to be held in Squaw Valley, California, which is still in the United States, and those who come to the games require American visas to get into the country. If the State Department, it will be proof that the State Department still conducts the foreign policy of the United States. If any athletes from Red China claim a right to participate, how can they get visas?

Avery Brundage of Chicago is president of the International Olympic Committee. He said in an interview that the expulsion of Nationalist China was "almost unanimous" in the vote of the committee. From that it is to be assumed that the "almost"

means that the American members of the committee did not vote in favor of such an outrageous proposition.

But Brundage and other members of the United States committee will be asking the American people to contribute funds for this committee and for the show at Squaw Valley. It would be a mark of disapproval if Americans avoided contributing to such an organization which deliberately flouts American policy and bows to Russian might.

This is a small matter. The Olympic Games have lost particularly those behind the caste because some countries, Iron Curtain, have a different definition of "amateur" than we do. In a Communist country, where there is no private enterprise, everybody works for the State.

A man who devotes himself to athletics is neither an amateur nor a professional in such a country. He is, in effect, a citizen who works for the State. He actually serves the State by engaging in a form of nationalistic propaganda by demonstrating, which Russia seeks to do, its superiority in every field of human endeavor.

In Western countries, amateur standing is altogether different. It means that a person devotes his spare time to a sport; that he receives no compensation for his sports activities. In fact, at certain periods of American moral rigidity, if an amateur athlete accepted any gift he was barred from non-professional sports.

Actually, it was the American colleges which lowered the morals of sportsmanship by providing "athletic scholarships" to football players and such, thus establishing the rule that compensation to amateurs is permissible if called by another name.

Racketeers got into the basketball business and corrupted that. Baseball became entirely professional. Nevertheless, there is still, in the Western world, considerable amateur sportsmanship and while sports do not have the widespread appeal that they had before movies and television and the automobile attracted youngsters, contests in the games continue.

What the International Olympic Committee has done is a basically un-sportsmanlike act. Soviet Russia trains hordes of men and women for the Olympic Games, making such participation a full-time job. By definition, there can be no amateurs in a Communist country because a person's time is the property of the State.

Soviet Russia is mighty; Nationalist China is small and weak. The International Olympic Committee agrees to abide by the will of the strong and, in effect, tells the weak that if they want to participate in the Olympic Games, they must change their name may no longer be China.

It is like telling an athlete with a non-WASP name that he must change it to be acceptable. This is not sport; it is politics and the International Olympic Committee does not exist for politics.

One of the curses of our age is that politics touches everything and every man regards himself as a diplomat, playing his own game, as though he really knew how.

Cleveland, Ohio's Municipal Stadium is the largest ball park in the United States, having a seating capacity of 80,000 people. Cleveland is the home of two professional teams, the Cleveland Indians and Cleveland Browns.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Note to readers: Thanks for all the nice letters. As many questions as possible will be answered in this column, but for obvious reasons replies must be brief.

Q. As some people age they seem to become more and more neurotic and hard to get along with. Do they actually have all the ills they complain about?
A. Oldsters, like a lot of younger folks, may develop neurotic symptoms which show up as repeated complaints when nothing is physically wrong. One day it's "indigestion"—the next day it's "backache" or perhaps just vague pains here and there. They seem always preoccupied with the body or a part of the body believed to be out of kilter. The trouble is very likely borrowed from the past—childhood fears, growing up anxieties, and adult disappointments. The average older person who has nothing more wrong than can be expected in later life very often needs a sympathetic listener and, above all, something of interest to occupy his time rather than actual treatment of mind or body.

Q. A redness of the eye is a warning signal common to many conditions. Play safe and see a physician. He may find that the redness is due to allergy or perhaps there is a mild infection. Medical advice should always be had at once if eye dimming is associated with any dimming of vision or severe discomfort, or if the redness shows up as a sort of halo around the cornea.

Q. "A competent electrologist has been giving me treatments for superfluous hair but the cost is high. I have been considering purchasing a home electric machine. Would this be advisable?"
A. Removal of superfluous hair by electrical means is a tedious and time-consuming process and because of this it is likely to be expensive. Results obtained depend entirely upon the skill with which the machine is used. The chief danger is facial scarring and this could be more disfiguring than the hair. Before taking any steps on your own, discuss the pros and cons of the matter with your family physician or dermatologist.

Hamilton Raceway Probe Is Shelved

An all-white jury convicted the four. They escaped the electric chair when the jury recommended mercy.

Philip Haidet, Wilmington Miss Suzanne Grant Weds

SUZANNE GRANT

In a candlelight wedding ceremony Saturday evening at the Methodist Church in Wilmington, Miss Suzanne Sayre Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Grant, was married to Mr. Philip Allen Haidet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Haidet. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin V. Smith at half past 7 o'clock.

The bride's parents are former Circleville residents. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grant, formerly of Circleville.

Included in the wedding party were the bride's sister, Miss Elizabeth Grant, who is maid of honor, Miss Patricia Smith of Circleville, Miss Emilie Jo Geisha of Cleveland, and another sister of the bride, Miss Leva Grant, bridesmaids; Mr. James Chesney, best man, Messrs. Fred Summers, James Wilson and Lee Fenner, ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length wedding gown of Chantilly lace and tulle was designed with a fitted bodice, the square neckline of which was scalloped and embroidered with iridescent sequins. Long lace sleeves tapered to bridal points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of tulle over ruffles was appliqued with Chantilly lace and an overskirt of scalloped lace formed a point in front and extended nearly to the hemline in back.

All the attendants wore identical gowns of silk organza and Chantilly lace. Pastel pink was worn by the maid of honor while the bridesmaids wore pale blue. Sleeveless, the lace bodices had scoop necklines and organza bands encircling the empire waists ended in back bows and streamers over the gathered skirts. The attendants wore Swedish crowns of hair braid to which little circular veils were attached.

Candle light and flowers made a pretty setting for the reception which followed the wedding ceremony in the social room of the church. Mrs. Grant received in a gown of varied shades of blue with which she wore matching flowers and veiling. Her shoulder corsage was formed of white roses and white feathered carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Haidet are to live in Wilmington on their return from their wedding trip. For going away the bride chose a beige linen dress with matching accessories. Pined to her shoulder was the center part of her bridal bouquet.

A 1957 Wilmington High School graduate, Mrs. Haidet attended Miami University at Oxford for two years and since February has held a position with the Wilmington office of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

Mr. Haidet was graduated from Wilmington High in 1955, attended Wilmington College for two years and is associated with the Sherwin-Williams Co.

DAR Hears of Principles Of New Historical Society

Approximately 71 members and guests of Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution gathered for the final meeting of the 1958-1959 season, at Pickaway Arms Tuesday.

Mrs. R. R. Bales, regent, called the session to order with the new theme to serve DAR work next year, "Faith of our Fathers Living Still." A moment of silence was observed and the Lord's Prayer repeated in memory of a deceased member, Mrs. John Downs.

After the ritual was conducted by the regent and Miss Florence Brown, chaplain, the American Creed was recited by everyone, followed by the minutes of the May meeting, read by the secretary, Mrs. Richard Hedges, and treasurer's report by Mrs. J. B. Stevenson. Recommendation of the board was approved to purchase four bronze markers to be used at grave-side memorial ceremonies.

Members were reminded by Mrs. Forest Croman that the program for the coming year is in process of being planned and suggested that individuals desiring to offer their homes for meeting places contact her.

Mrs. Paul Cromley asked for subscriptions to the national and state DAR magazines and Miss Marie Hamilton reported on money-making projects which finance chapter activities.

The regent read the first mesage of the newly-elected President General, Mrs. Ashmeade White, appearing in the national magazine and also indicated the full page advertisement sponsored by the Circleville Division of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., marking the town as the first city in the world to be illuminated with incandescent street lamps.

The pledge of allegiance served to introduce Mrs. Clarence McAbbe and her paper, "Stars and Stripes", which treated on the nation's flag.

Miss Judy Burkhart presented a musical interlude of harp music, "Pavane," by an unknown composer and "Song of the Night" by Carlos Salvedo.

Principles and aims of the local historical society were explained by Mrs. Ray Davis. Citing the many items of historical, archeological and geological interest that have taken place within the county, it was evident that such a heritage should be recorded and preserved.

Mrs. Bales asked members to save stamps and coupons during summer adjournment.

Hostesses in charge of arrangements were Miss Alice Ada May, chairman; Mrs. Ben Nothstine, Miss Margaret Dunlap, Mrs. Paul Matthaas, Miss Eliza Plum, Mrs. Harold Borror and Mrs. Robert Graham.

Philip Haidet, Wilmington Miss Suzanne Grant Weds

SUZANNE GRANT

In a candelighted wedding ceremony Saturday evening at the Methodist Church in Wilmington, Miss Suzanne Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Grant, was married to Mr. Philip Allen Haidet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Haidet. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin V. Smith at half past 7 o'clock.

The bride's parents are former Circleville residents. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grant, formerly of Circleville.

Included in the wedding party were the bride's sister, Miss Elizabeth Grant, who was maid of honor, Miss Patricia Smith of Circleville, Miss Emile Jo Geisha of Cleveland, and another sister of the bride, Miss Leva Grant, bridesmaids; Mr. James Chesney, best man, Messrs. Fred Summers, James Wilson and Lee Fenner, ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length wedding gown of Chantilly lace and tulle was designed with a fitted bodice, the square neckline of which was scalloped and embroidered with iridescent sequins. Long lace sleeves tapered to bridal points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of tulle over ruffles was appliqued with Chantilly lace and an overskirt of scalloped lace formed a point in front and extended nearly to the hemline in back.

All the attendants wore identical gowns of silk organza and Chantilly lace. Pastel pink was worn by the maid of honor while the bridesmaids wore pale blue. Sleeveless, the lace bodices had scoop necklines and organza bands encircling the empire waists ended in back bows and streamers over the gathered skirts. The attendants wore Swedish crowns of hair braid to which little circular veils were attached.

Candle light and flowers made a pretty setting for the reception which followed the wedding ceremony in the social room of the church. Mrs. Grant received in a gown of varied shades of blue with which she wore matching flowers and veiling. Her shoulder corsage was formed of white roses and white feathered carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Haidet are to live in Wilmington on their return from their wedding trip. For going away the bride chose a beige linen dress with matching accessories. Pined to her shoulder was the center part of her bridal bouquet.

A 1957 Wilmington High School graduate, Mrs. Haidet attended Miami University at Oxford for two years and since February has held a position with the Wilmington office of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

Mr. Haidet was graduated from

DAR Hears of Principles Of New Historical Society

Approximately 71 members and guests of Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution gathered for the final meeting of the 1958-1959 season, at Pickaway Arms Tuesday.

Mrs. R. R. Bales, regent, called the session to order with the new theme to serve DAR work next year, "Faith of our Fathers Living Still." A moment of silence was observed and the Lord's Prayer repeated in memory of a deceased member, Mrs. John Downs.

After the ritual was conducted by the regent and Miss Florence Brown, chaplain, the American Creed was recited by everyone, followed by the minutes of the May meeting, read by the secretary, Mrs. Richard Hedges, and treasurer's report by Mrs. J. B. Stevenson. Recommendation of the board was approved to purchase four bronze markers to be used at grave-side memorial ceremonies.

Members were reminded by Mrs. Forest Cronan that the program for the coming year is in process of being planned and suggested that individuals desiring to offer their homes for meeting places contact her.

Mrs. Paul Cromley asked for subscriptions to the national and state DAR magazines and Miss Marie Hamilton reported on money-making projects which finance chapter activities.

The regent read the first message of the newly-elected President General, Mrs. Ashmeade White, appearing in the national magazine and also indicated the full page advertisement sponsored by the Circleville Division of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.; marking the town as the first city in the world to be illuminated with incandescent street lamps.

The pledge of allegiance served to introduce Mrs. Clarence McAbee and her paper, "Stars and Stripes", which treated on the nation's flag.

Miss Judy Burkhart presented a musical interlude of harp music, "Pavane," by an unknown composer and "Song of the Night" by Carlos Salvedo.

Principles and aims of the local historical society were explained by Mrs. Ray Davis. Citing the many items of historical, archeological and geological interest that have taken place within the county, it was evident that such a heritage should be recorded and preserved.

ENTIRE TOWN PERILED—Under that pile of pulpwood are the two tank cars filled with deadly chlorine gas which threatened death to the town of McRae, Ga., and everyone within a mile radius. The 66-car train apparently hit an open switch, and three diesel engines and 16 cars were derailed. The chlorine gas tank cars tumbled down an embankment and piled right through a warehouse. Then three cars, loaded with pulpwood, fell on tank cars, which held together.

Hey, Mom! You're Out There Naked

SEATTLE (AP)—Ethel Adams, 41, awoke from a sound sleep early Monday to discover a burglar in her bedroom, pawing through her jewel box. Mrs. Adams leaped out of bed and chased the burglar out the back door. He got away but she stood there screaming for help. In the crowd which gathered was her daughter, Diane Usher. Diane, said Mrs. Adams, "took one look at me and said, 'Mother, get back into that house. 'You don't have any clothes on.'"

BEST OF SHOW — Mrs. Schubert Measamer, president of Pickaway Garden Club won the silver tray for this arrangement. Made of emerald palm and candlestick lilies it best interpreted the theme of the show "Spring Carnival". The clown used as an accessory was constructed by Mrs. Measamer.

Garden Gossip

Everybody is kidding the Jones family on the appearance of the mailbox out front. It's a scandal. Right now the carrier sort of fights his way through the wild parsnip. Certainly, the name is completely hidden. But that doesn't mean we're not going to get that mailbox landscaped this summer. Just a late start.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High St., says the rambler roses are putting on a fine show at her place. Rambler roses can do that. I'm predicting a trend back to the rambler. Mrs. King has Lady Gay. It's a much loved rambler of the brightest imaginable pink.

Mrs. King says her magnolia was blooming to perfection not too long ago. It's one of the Jackson County magnolias said to have been left in Ohio by the glacier. It's actually a Carolina species. A whole grove of these magnolias was discovered in Jackson County about 25 years ago.

Green Thumbers beware! On a nursery invoice recently received is a plant patent notice which reads "No shrub, tree or plant on this order covered by the plant patent may be propagated without license from the patent owner."

WE WERE under the impression that a gardener could not propagate a plant for sale. This patent says no propagation, period. So keep it under your hat if you are raising roses (Patent roses) from slips.

The Houston grain elevator, where Red Rose feed is sold, has a rose hedge on either side of the property. The roses are all Frensham and what a show they make. They had to be pruned way back this year but they are blooming gloriously now.

Well, the first Alaskan forget-me-not is blooming. Gee! Forget-me-nots are little. They must bloom in great profusion in Alaska to have been chosen as a state flower. Mine are going to get a shot of commercial fertilizer to see if the blossom will get bigger.

Miss Doris Allen has hanging baskets on her front porch. Miss Allen lives at Route 1, Kingston. Hanging baskets on the porch were fashionable at the beginning of the century. They are very attractive.

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, one-time assistant secretary of defense, was on Ed Murrow's Person-to-Person program. She told of her efforts to beautify New York City which she loves. She wants visitors there to think of it as a city of trees and flowers. Evidently she's in a headway along Park and Fifth Aves. She can have New York, we'll stick to beautifying the county mailboxes.

A friend of Alma Crites' says that she purchased some very super iris this spring. Mr. and Mrs. George Crites live on S. Court St. Iris fanciers have such fun with all the new iris which are available!

Hattie Butler's cherry trees died this spring. A long-time resident of W. Franklin St. she had been very proud of her cherries. As her neighbors look over at the leafless fruitless trees this year they say they have a poignant feeling because Hattie Butler herself died some weeks ago.

WE THINK we heard wrong but the Charlie Thompsons have a planter that is a planter. It is 30 feet long. Alice is busy acquiring annuals to fill it. Well, I guess! The Thompsons live on Collins Ct.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Route 2, Ashville, says the Van Wert peony festival is just out of this world. She said that if you liked peonies—and who doesn't—you see every kind that grows.

Chromium into space

NEW YORK (AP)—Chromium which withstands 1,000 degree temperatures may be the metal used in the craft that eventually takes a man to the moon, according to Steelways, publication of American Iron and Steel Institute.

The magazine said "the heat resistant metal was produced by mixing chromium with nickel, molybdenum and aluminum."

Thief in Church

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Sunday was workday for a thief at Pine Avenue Baptist Church. Police reported somebody took the entire Sunday School collection of $213.38 while the money was left unattended briefly between Sunday School and church services.

13-FOOT TOMATO VINE—Joseph Maccoca stands on a 10-foot step ladder to pick tomatoes from the 13-foot-high tomato vine at the back of his house in San Diego, Calif.

Woman Writes On 'Arranging' Back in 1878

Adds Carrots, Grass To Bouquet, Creates "Artistic" Effect

Flower arranging a passing fad? We think not. In an article in "Hardwicke's Science - Gossip, a Monthly Medium of Interchange and Gossip for Students and LOVERS OF NATURE" printed in 1878 a certain Mrs. Battersby wrote about an autumnal bouquet she had made.

Well it seems that Mrs. Battersby, an English gardener, set out to create an autumn bouquet. As she went through the garden picking the flowers she commented on the culture of each flower.

First she chose fuchsia, next anemone (Japonica), then Lobelia cardinalis. Of this she says "a clergyman, for many years resident in America, told me the beauty and brilliancy of a swamp of lobelias in their native habitat is almost dazzling."

THEN SHE ADDED the blue lobelia. Next she included Viola lutea and twigs of Spanish broom.

The final paragraph we give you in its entirety: "And now I must look for some pretty leaves there-with to form a background for my bouquet and I shall find them in the delicate fernlike green of a bed of young carrots; they are so light as to prove invaluable at this time for arranging vases and we may often find a leaf as scarlet as the lobelia beside it."

"One shade more and our group will be complete—something dark—and our children supply it. They have been out boating and have brought home a bunch of giant, black tufted grass, as they call it, a plume of which will make our autumnal vase of flowers quite artistic in effect."

Old Roses Featured in Adena Garden

Decoration Day is the time to go see these roses which emit an enchanting fragrance at that particular season. Old roses are not monthly bloomers.

That may be the enticement of old roses, that fleeting season of bloom.

Richard Thompson has a book out, "Old Roses for Modern Gardens". And who is better qualified to write such a book than the man who has 800 varieties of these roses in his own garden?

Thompson is a lecturer, photographer and rose judge as well as an author.

In this book you will learn how easy it is to grow these old fashioned roses as specimens, in gardens or among shrubs.

The book is illustrated in full color and black and white. D. Van Nostrand Co. Inc. is the publisher.

Veteran Gardener Still Adventuring with Plants

When the garden editor's phone rings and an animated voice says, "That things out" it means that some rare and unusual flower has come into bloom. And the garden editor, if there's a car available, hops over to see what's out.

Last week it was Mrs. Ed Fetherolf's new flower, "Jewel of Tibet" that was blooming. And the "Jewel of Tibet", local botanists say, belongs to the onion family. But what an onion!

The foliage resembles that of the Peruvian daffodil. The flower head is round, about the size of a baseball on a stem three feet high. The flower head is a beautiful blue violet and is made up of tiny florets. It is indeed a glamorized giant onion.

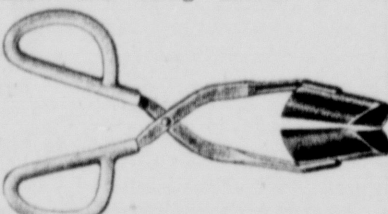

Mrs. Fetherolf, Sringtown gardener, on Route 56 (east) is a flower raiser from way back. She inherited her love of flowers, she says, from her daddy, the late Levi Lutz. She has gardened ever since she can remember.

New Garden Gadget Helps

Gardeners are preoccupied now with the business of transplanting. Holes in the flower border have to be filled. Where plants have come up too thickly they may be thinned and if the gardener is careful the young plants may be transplanted to grow in a different place in the garden.

A very handy gadget to help in the transplanting chore is a set of transplant-r-tongs about the size of a large pair of shears. The tongs work like fence post diggers, in miniature, of course.

And a young plant may not even know it's being moved if it's

scooped up with a little cylinder of dirt around the roots.

ALL PLANTS go through a state of shock in transplanting. Transplant-r-tongs almost eliminate this danger.

A very handy gadget, transplant-r-tongs! A real help in the hectic garden days when you do your last transplanting!

Seedsmen Fear Catalogues Cost Too Much

An S-O-S has been sent out to garden writers by the seedsmen of America. It appears that garden catalogues are costing the seedsmen more than they care to spend.

Moreover the seedsmen say people read, study and learn from these expensive catalogues then go to the nearest super-market and buy their bulbs, seeds and plants. Taint fair the seedsmen assert.

Catalogues are the showy windows of the seed and nursery mail order companies. Certainly they are not going to sell seeds without catalogues.

Certainly some of the big seed companies should revise their lists because frequently they send duplicate catalogues to the same family.

But it would be a sorry day for gardeners if there were no seed catalogues. What would we do in January?

So let's all think twice before we request a free catalogue. Let's do all we can to keep alive the wonderful institution of pleasure and education, the free seed catalogue.

Santa Disabled

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Clarence Fiske was awarded $1,849 for injuries suffered while on duty as a department store Santa Claus last December.

Fiske told the court he was totally disabled from Dec. 25 to April 1 as the result of injuries received when a girl jumped into his lap.

AND THERE'S always something in bloom around the Fetherolfs. The flowers are planted around the yard fence, around the house and in a garden with the vegetables.

Mrs. Fetherolf, a member of the Pickaway Garden Club, likes adventuring with unknown and unusual plants. If they don't always turn out so well she figures it's fun trying anyway. For instance she tried her hand at yellow magic lilies. They were not successful so she has to settle for a big planting of the good old-fashioned pink variety. These are along her fence for passers-by to enjoy.

Mrs. Fetherolf was about the first person around to try autumn blooming iris. Her luck with these has been good.

There's continuous bloom at the Fetherolfs. There were lots of daffodils. Mrs. Fetherolf might be classed as an iris specialist. Right now it's roses. She has 36 planted in rows in the garden.

And beside the roses blooming now are numerous flowers: Gaillardia, an all-yellow variety, coreopsis, lythrum, spirea (Anthony Waterer) jinks, lavender (Hers is not winter-killed) regal lilies, daylilies, cardistick lilies, sweet William, shasta daisies, feverfew, pink double poppies, columbine, and coral bells.

Soon to bloom will be the glads, the estate lilies and later on there will be dahlias, mums and asters.

AND DOES all this keep Mrs. Fetherolf busy? Yes, very busy! She is continually cultivating and transplanting and dividing. Not a mulcher she stays ahead of the weeds by keeping on the job all the time. Right now is the worst time for weeds. But if she gets the beds cleaned out there will not be too much more heavy weeding.

Mrs. Fetherolf thinks the weeds are a little worse this year because she gave some of the beds a heavy feeding of barnyard manure. She uses both barnyard manure and commercial fertilizer.

In back of the summer kitchen Mrs. Fetherolf has her seedbeds. She broadcasts seeds in little patches and later transplants to her borders. As with all green-thumb persons she has excellent luck with her seeds. This year she's trying out Jerusalem cherries which she will later pot for houseplant use.

Yes, Mrs. Fetherolf is very interested in houseplants. She has a broad leaved cactus which she acquired in 1912 and which blooms every year with a beautiful red double flower. She has a giant jade plant in a big pot. "That," she says, "is as old as Francis Fraumfelter". Francis Fraumfelter is a neighbor in his early thirties.

Climbing the pillars at the steps of the front porch are two pink and gold honeysuckle vines. Mrs. Fetherolf says that during a mild winter she can come out in December and pick honeysuckle.

The vegetable garden is Mrs. Fetherolf's domain too. She has peas, beets, bushbeans, lettuce, cucumbers, tomatoes, all in a thriving condition. She has a strawberry bed too.

TWO SPRUCE trees flank the walk in front of the house. Mrs. Fetherolf has taken the tiny cones from these spruces, planted them and acquired tiny spruce trees. They are now growing in a pot ready for transplanting later.

Mrs. Fetherolf went over to her multi-colored hydrangeas which grow on the north side of the porch and felt the tips of several branches. She was feeling for flower buds. These hydrangeas are blue and pink. People frequently stop their cars to inquire about them. Last summer their bloom was more profuse than ever before. And they have a fine start this summer.

The hydrangeas were so beautiful and tempting that Mrs. Fetherolf came home one day to find that one plant had disappeared. Somebody had just plain dug it up and carried it off.

And about the "Jewel of Tibet" whole planting of them might be pretty, especially if she bordered the planting with lavender which blooms in spikes of the identical color. She thinks maybe the "Jewel" will bring forth seed. And knowing the Fetherolf luck with seed there may be lots of jewels before too long.

Girls' Choir Gives Concert At Rose Park

As the third offering on the Park of Roses Summer Concert Series Program will be the Columbus State School Girls' Choir at 7:30 p. m. June 21.

Mrs. Robert Muncie will direct the Choir, and be accompanied by Mrs. Edward McGuire. The 25-member, all-girl choir was organized in 1943, at present there are two of the original group.

Temptations Hit Garden Addicts, Too

A gardener does have his temptations, and, according to several local flower fanciers, too often succumbs. Several gardeners have complained about the loss of certain plants.

And they maintain the plants were lifted purposefully and with a spade so that it was a premeditated theft. For shame!

However, a few days ago I saw a box of "Gypsy Flowers" on the bargain counter at the super market. The box said, "20 Bulbs". But being of a crafty nature and noticing that the seal was broken on the box I investigated. There were a goodly number of bulbs so I did not take the trouble to count.

WHEN PLANTING time came I found myself automatically counting the bulbs again. By actual count there were only 19.

All of which leads me to believe some gardener, as curious as myself about a gypsy flower had broken the seal and gently removed a bulblet. Perhaps she had already overspent her garden budget. Perhaps she was very poor. The whole box only cost 39 cents.

Anyway, God love her, she must have been very curious horticulturally speaking. And the bulblet was such a tiny thing to make off with! I wish her the best of luck with her gypsy flower.

At any rate we'll both know before too long what gypsy flowers are. That is, I hope so. Directions on the box said "water twice a week". Well that's out as far as we're concerned. We'll mulch but we never water.

Anyway better count the bulbs on the spot if the seal is broken on the package—the way you investigate to see if all four sticks of butter are in the butter carton.

Scented Pussy Gets Perfumed Bath

Mrs. John Griffith came to work at the Pickaway Garden Club flower show after a long morning spent scrubbing a kitten which had tried to make friends with a skunk.

Not only can they now smell him 100 yards away, but he always gallops like a horse and clatters around like a steam locomotive, giving ample warning of his approach.

IT IS ONLY after the bird, chipmunk or squirrel has frisked away that Snuffy remembers he is supposed to be a cat and crouches to pounce.

BEST SPECIMEN OF SHOW — Mrs. George Van Camp exhibited this pure white iris which won "Best of Show" award. Mrs. Van Camp did not know the iris by name. It was just one of her many iris varieties which she does not bother to label.

HOGARTH CURVE — This arrangement in yellow and white was exhibited by Mrs. William Defenbaugh at the spring flower show of Pickaway Garden Club. Mrs. Defenbaugh used deutzia, mock orange and daylilies in a white container. This was a blue ribbon winner in its class, which called for a rhythmic arrangement. The structural line of the Hogarth curve was considered beautifully rhythmic by the judges.

No Hay Fever At St. John

So you have hay fever! Well, you won't be troubled with it when you visit, Cruz Bay, St. John, Virgin Islands.

The pollen count is zero at St. John.

Oren C. Durham, widely recognized areobiologist has made a pollen survey and that's his report.

ST. JOHN is the smallest of the Virgin Islands some 50 miles east of Puerto Rico. It's noted for its equable and dry climate, primitive beauty and beaches which rank among the world's ten best.

The Virgin Island National Park was established on St. John in 1956 on the basis of lands acquired and donated by the Jackson Hole Preserve Inc. a conservation organization supported by the Rockefeller family.

Brownie Troop To Make Some Seed Pictures

Anybody have any leftover seeds? Mrs. Sterling Poling's Brownie troop is making seed pictures for its day-camp project. All sorts of seed are needed.

No matter how small, the seed will be valuable to the troop. Mrs. Poling explained that the picture might include a tiny bird. What nicer than lettuce seed for the bird's wing!

The Brownies are busy collecting the "makings" of their seed picture. If you do not know a Brownie leave the seed packets with Mrs. G. Guy Campbell at Circle Press, 122 S. Court St.

BEST OF SHOW — Mrs. Schubert Measamer, president of Pickaway Garden Club won the silver tray for this arrangement. Made of emerald palm and candelstick lilies it best interpreted the theme of the show "Spring Carnival". The clown used as an accessory was constructed by Mrs. Measamer.

Garden Gossip

Everybody is kidding the Jones family on the appearance of the mailbox out front. It's a scandal. Right now the carrier sort of fights his way through the wild parsnip. Certainly, the name is completely hidden. But that doesn't mean we're not going to get that mailbox landscaped this summer. Just a late start.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High St., says the rambler roses are putting on a fine show at her place. Rambler roses can do that. I'm predicting a trend back to the rambblers. Mrs. King has Lady Gay. It's a much loved rambler of the brightest imaginable pink.

Mrs. King says her magnolia was blooming to perfection not too long ago. It's one of the Jackson County magnolias said to have been left in Ohio by the glacier. It's actually a Carolina species. A whole grove of these magnolias was discovered in Jackson County about 25 years ago.

No wonder the Dave Cravens have bordered their shrub planting in the back with strawberries. Dave is a famous gourmet and naturally he'd want strawberries.

Green Thumbs beware! On a nursery invoice recently received is a plant patent notice which reads "No shrub, tree or plant on this order covered by the plant patent may be propagated without license from the patent owner."

WE WERE under the impression that a gardener could not propagate a plant for sale. This patent says no propagation, period. So keep it under your hat if you are raising roses (Patent roses) from slips.

Speaking of patents, one of the less expensive roses in Frensham because it does not have a patent. It's deep red and a prolific bloomer.

The Houston grain elevator, where Red Rose feed is sold, has a rose hedge on either side of the property. The roses are all Frensham and what a show they make. They had to be pruned way back this year but they are blooming gloriously now.

For landscape effect there is nothing like "all of a kind".

Well, the first Alaskan forget-me-not is blooming. Gee! Forget-me-nots are little. They must bloom in great profusion in Alaska to have been chosen as a state flower. Mine are going to get a shot of commercial fertilizer to see if the blossom will get bigger.

Miss Doris Allen has hanging baskets on her front porch. Miss Allen lives at Route 1, Kingston. Hanging baskets on the porch were fashionable at the beginning of the century. They are very attractive.

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, one-time assistant secretary of defense, was on Ed Murrow's Person-to-Person program. She told of her efforts to beautify New York City which she loves. She wants visitors there to think of it as a city of trees and flowers. Evidently she's made headway along Park and Fifth Aves. She can have New York, we'll stick to beautifying the county mailboxes.

A friend of Alma Crites' says that she purchased some very superior iris this spring. Mr. and Mrs. George Crites live on S. Court St. Iris fanciers have such fun with all the new iris which are available!

Hattie Butler's cherry trees died this spring. A long-time resident of W. Franklin St. she had been very proud of her cherries. As her neighbors look over at the leafless fruitless trees this year they say they have a poignant feeling because Hattie Butler herself died some weeks ago.

WE THINK we heard wrong but the Charlie Thompsons have a planter that is a planter. It is 30 feet long. Alice is busy acquiring annuals to fill it. Well, I guess! The Thompsons live on Collins Ct.

Mrs. George Lawson, Sunset Drive, has butterfly weed in her garden. Now this is a wildling that adds real color to the flower border. It does well under cultivation.

Don't forget to give your left-over seeds to Martha Poling's Brownie troop. Lots of people are inclined to save seed from one year to the next. And it's not a practice recommended by the best gardeners. "Fresh seed" is advised as one of the good gardening practices.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Route 2, Ashville, says the Van Wert peony festival is just out of this world. She said that if you liked peonies—and who doesn't—you see every kind that grows.

Woman Writes On 'Arranging' Back in 1878

Adds Carrots, Grass To Bouquet, Creates "Artistic" Effect

Flower arranging a passing fad? We think not. In an article in "Hardwicke's Science - Gossip, a Monthly Medium of Interchange and Gossip for Students and LOVERS OF NATURE" printed in 1878 a certain Mrs. Battersby wrote about an autumnal bouquet she had made.

This curious little pamphlet was published in London and cost "monthly fourpence, by post fivepence."

Well it seems that Mrs. Battersby, an English gardener, set out to create an autumn bouquet. As she went through the garden picking the flowers she commented on the culture of each flower.

First she chose fuchsia, next anemone (Japonica), then Lobelia cardinalis. Of this she says "a clergyman, for many years resident in America, told me the beauty and brilliancy of a swamp of lobelias in their native habitat is almost dazzling."

THEN SHE ADDED the blue lobelia. Next she included Viola lutea and twigs of Spanish broom.

The final paragraph we give you in its entirety: "And now I must look for some pretty leaves there-with to form a background for my bouquet and I shall find them in the delicate fernlike green of a bed of young carrots; they are so light as to prove invaluable at this time for arranging vases and we may often find a leaf as scarlet as the lobelia beside it."

"One shade more and our group will be complete—something dark—and our children supply it. They have been out boating and have brought home a bunch of giant, black tufted grass, as they call it, a plume of which will make our autumnal vase of flowers quite artistic in effect."

It's just to be taken for granted that gardeners with a yen for the quaint and old-fashioned know about the rose garden at Adena, the restored home of Governor Worthington in Chillicothe.

Decoration Day is the time to go see these roses which emit an enchanting fragrance at that particular season. Old roses are not monthly bloomers.

That may be the enrichment of old roses, that fleeting season of bloom.

At any rate old roses are coming into their own again. For a time old rose fanciers had to wait until a kindhearted gardener with a rose hedge decided to share.

IT'S DIFFERENT now. Old roses are available at nurseries. Richard Thompson has a book out, "Old Roses for Modern Gardens". And who is better qualified to write such a book than the man who has 800 varieties of these roses in his own garden?

Thompson is a lecturer, photographer and rose judge as well as an author.

In this book you will learn how easy it is to grow these old fashioned roses as specimens, in gardens or among shrubs.

The author tells how you can add unusual old-world charm to your garden by using these quaint varieties. You don't have to be a rose specialist to succeed with old roses.

The book is illustrated in full color and black and white. D. Van Nostrand Co. Inc. is the publisher.

Veteran Gardener Still Adventuring with Plants

When the garden editor's phone rings and an animated voice says, "That things out" it means that some rare and unusual flower has come into bloom. And the garden editor, if there's a car available, hops over to see what's out.

Last week it was Mrs. Ed Fetherolf's new flower, "Jewel of Tibet" that was blooming. And the "Jewel of Tibet", local botanists say, belongs to the onion family. But what an onion!

The foliage resembles that of the Peruvian daffodil. The flower head is round, about the size of a baseball on a stem three feet high. The flower head is a beautiful blue violet and is made up of tiny florets. It is indeed a glamorized giant onion.

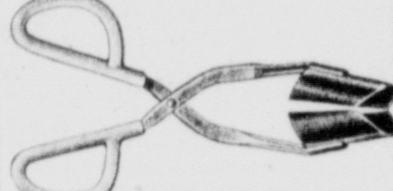

Mrs. Fetherolf, Springtown gardener, on Route 56 (east) is a flower raiser from way back. She inherited her love of flowers, she says, from her daddy, the late Levi Lutz. She has gardened ever since she can remember.

New Garden Gadget Helps

Gardeners are preoccupied now with the business of transplanting. Holes in the flower border have to be filled. Where plants have come up too thickly they may be thinned and if the gardener is careful the young plants may be transplanted to grow in a different place in the garden.

A very handy gadget to help in the transplanting chore is a set of transplant-tongs about the size of a large pair of shears. The tongs work like fence post diggers, in miniature, of course.

And a young plant may not even know it's being moved if it's

scooped up with a little cylinder of dirt around the roots.

Hard-to-transplant things like poppies and centaurea may be moved with these tongs.

ALL PLANTS go through a state of shock in transplanting. Transplant-tongs almost eliminate this danger.

A very handy gadget, transplant-tongs! A real help in the hectic garden days when you do your last transplanting!

Seedsmen Fear Catalogues Cost Too Much

An S-O-S has been sent out to garden writers by the seedsmen of America. It appears that garden catalogues are costing the seedsmen more than they care to spend.

Statistics show that only one order comes in for every four catalogues sent out. And this is not enough to make the practice pay.

Moreover the seedsmen say people read, study and learn from these expensive catalogues then go to the nearest super-market and buy their bulbs, seeds and plants. "Taint fair the seedsmen assert."

THIS HAS come as an unwelcome surprise to the garden editor who pores over catalogues by the dozen.

Catalogues are the show windows of the seed and nursery mail order companies. Certainly they are not going to sell seeds without catalogues.

Certainly some of the big seed companies should revise their lists because frequently they send duplicate catalogues to the same family.

But it would be a sorry day for gardeners if there were no seed catalogues. What would we do in January?

So let's all think twice before we request a free catalogue. Let's do all we can to keep alive the wonderful institution of pleasure and education, the free seed catalogue.

Santa Disabled

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Clarence Fiske was awarded $1,849 for injuries suffered while on duty as a department store Santa Claus last December.

Fiske told the court he was totally disabled from Dec. 25 to April 1 as the result of injuries received when a girl jumped into his lap.

Temptations Hit Garden Addicts, Too

A gardener does have his temptations, and, according to several local flower fanciers, too often succumbs. Several gardeners have complained about the loss of certain plants.

And they maintain the plants were lifted purposefully and with a spade so that it was a premeditated theft. For shame!

However, a few days ago I saw a box of "Gypsy Flowers" on the bargain counter at the super market. The box said, "20 Bulbs". But being of a crafty nature and noticing that the seal was broken on the box I investigated. There were a goodly number of bulbs so I did not take the trouble to count.

WHEN PLANTING time came I found myself automatically counting the bulbs again. By actual count there were only 19.

All of which leads me to believe some gardener, as curious as myself about a gypsy flower had broken the seal and gently removed a bulblet. Perhaps she had already overspent her garden budget. Perhaps she was very poor. The whole box only cost 39 cents.

Anyway, God love her, she must have been very curious horticulturally speaking. And the bulblet was such a tiny thing to make off with! I wish her the best of luck with her gypsy flower.

At any rate we'll both know before too long what gypsy flowers are. That is, I hope so. Directions on the box said "water twice a week". Well that's out as far as we're concerned. We'll much but we never water.

Anyway better count the bulbs on the spot if the seal is broken on the package—the way you investigate to see if all four sticks of butter are in the butter carton.

Scented Pussy Gets Perfumed Bath

Mrs. John Griffith came to work at the Pickaway Garden Club flower show after a long morning spent scrubbing a kitten which had tried to make friends with a skunk.

After three baths and perfumed rinses, Snuffy is probably the only feline in the county beaming happily through a haze of Shalimar and "woods pussy."

Apparently, Snuffy causes no alarm to the birds and abundant wild life in the Griffith's wooded area.

Not only can they now smell him 100 yards away, but he always gallops like a horse and clatters around like a steam locomotive, giving ample warning of his approach.

IT IS ONLY after the bird, chipmunk or squirrel has frisked away that Snuffy remembers he is supposed to be a cat and crouches to pounce.

He hasn't caught anything yet.

Some 2,000 Italian farmers, angered by the continued low price they received for their potatoes, staged a riot at the town of Marigliano. Who'd ever have thought the lowly spud could spark a rebellion!

BEST SPECIMEN OF SHOW — Mrs. George Van Camp exhibited this pure white iris which won "Best of Show" award. Mrs. Van Camp did not know the iris by name. It was just one of her many iris varieties which she does not bother to label.

HOGARTH CURVE — This arrangement in yellow and white was exhibited by Mrs. William Defenbaugh at the spring flower show of Pickaway Garden Club. Mrs. Defenbaugh used deutzia, mock orange and daylilies in a white container. This was a blue ribbon winner in its class, which called for a rhythmic arrangement. The structural line of the Hogarth curve was considered beautifully rhythmic by the judges.

No Hay Fever At St. John

So you have hay fever! Well, you won't be troubled with it when you visit, Cruz Bay, St. John, Virgin Islands.

The pollen count is zero at St. John.

Oren C. Durham, widely recognized areobiologist has made a pollen survey and that's his report.

Not one ragweed of any species was found on the island. The survey was held over a year's period.

ST. JOHN is the smallest of the Virgin Islands some 50 miles east of Puerto Rico. It's noted for its equable and dry climate, primitive beauty and beaches which rank among the world's ten best.

The Virgin Island National Park was established on St. John in 1956 on the basis of lands acquired and donated by the Jackson Hole Preserve Inc., a conservation organization supported by the Rockefeller family.

Brownie Troop To Make Some Seed Pictures

Anybody have any leftover seeds? Mrs. Sterling Poling's Brownie troop is making seed pictures for its day-camp project. All sorts of seed are needed.

Farmers are providing corn, wheat and oats. But the brownies want flower and vegetable seed.

No matter how small, the seed will be valuable to the troop. Mrs. Poling explained that the picture might include a tiny bird. What nicer than lettuce seed for the bird's wing!

The Brownies are busy collecting the "makings" of their seed picture. If you do not know a Brownie leave the seed packets with Mrs. G. Guy Campbell at Circle Press, 122 S. Court St.

Cleveland Riding New Hot Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cleveland's Indians are riding their hottest streak of the season and Cal McLish is back in stride—a winner for the first time in more than a month, but still trying to shake a shutout jinx.

The big right-hander, whose lone whitewash job in the majors came eight years ago, pitched the Indians to their seventh straight success and a full-game lead in the American League with a 4-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

It was the fifth time this season McLish has come close to nailing that long-pursued second shutout. He missed by inches when Marty Keough's seventh-inning drive tricked outfielder Rocky Colavito's glove and got away for a home run.

The New York Yankees helped Cleveland along by defeating Chicago's second place White Sox 5-1. Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington were rained out.

McLish, now 6-3, picked on his favorite pigeons. He beat the Red Sox for the fifth time in a row since last June 26, giving up six hits, walking two and striking out six for his first complete game since May 8. He is 7-1 life against Boston.

The Indians plunked the Red Sox back into a last-place tie with Washington on a two-run homer by Dick Brown in the fifth inning against loser Ted Willis (2-2). It was Brown's first of the year, but Cleveland's 18th in the streak—one shy of the AL record for seven games held by the 1936 Yankees and 1940 Red Sox.

The Yankees moved within a single game of fourth place Baltimore behind the four-hit pitching of Art Ditmar (5-4), who won his fourth in a row. The Sox scored in the first inning on a double by

Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar's single, then managed only a pair of singles by Norm Cash the rest of the way.

Billy Pierce (7-7) was the loser, checking the Yanks on three hits until they broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth on Mickey Mantle's triple, a hit batter, Hee Lopez' double and Bobby Ricardson's sacrifice fly.

Purina Nine, Ward's Market Record Wins

Raiston Purina and Ward's Market recorded come-from-behind victories last night in Little League action at Ted Lewis Park.

Purina rallied for six runs in the third inning, after trailing 3-1, to ice its first major league win over Elks, 7-4. Ward's Market battled from a 9-4 deficit to take Lincoln Plastic, 15-11 in minor league play.

Winning hurler for Purina was John Wardell, who aided his own cause with a home run. Jim Wells took the loss for the Elks. Elks' Palmer smacked a home run.

THE ELKS' SPANGLER led his teammates in slugging with 2 for 3, which included a triple. Purina's Jeff Lutz and David Cupp each had 2 for 3.

Purina registered nine hits in the Elks four. Each squad committed three errors. Purina and The Herald are now undefeated in major league play.

Ward's jumped to a 4-1 lead, only to see it melt under an eight run second inning onslaught by Plastic and trail 9-4. Under steady scoring, Ward's tallied three in the bottom of the second and three in the third to take a 10-9 lead.

Plastic came back for two runs in the fourth to take an 11-10 lead before Ward's iced the game with a four-run fourth and added an insurance run in the bottom of the fifth. The game went the regulation six innings.

Jerry Jenkins got credit for the win and D. J. Henry was charged with the loss. Jenkins relieved starter Rodney Hedges for Ward's and Henry replaced Danny Gibbs.

Pitching records found Gibbs walking six, Henry, four, Hedges, four, and Jenkins, six. Strike outs were few as Henry fanned four, Hedges, one, and Jenkins, four.

HEDGES AND BOWMAN Henry blasted the only extra base hits of the game, two doubles. Ward's collected 10 hits, four off Gibbs and six off Henry.

Lincoln Plastic was held to seven hits, four off Jenkins and three off Hedges. Ward's leads the minor league after first game play. Plastic committed seven errors and Ward's one.

Two minor league games are on tap at 5:30 p. m. today. The Circleville Savings Bank meets First National on the little diamond and the Third National squad tangles with the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the softball diamond.

AKINS SCHEDULES Comeback Bid

GE Downs Dupont Nine, 8-4 In Opening Babe Ruth Test

Babe Ruth League baseball play opened with a flurry last night at Ted Lewis Park as General Electric stormed to an 8-4 decision over DuPont.

Hartley was in control throughout most of the game as he permitted only three hits. He fanned seven and walked 10, but was able to bear down when runners were on base.

PHIFER started for DuPont, but was relieved in the first by GE pushed three runs across the plate. Reeser came in to end the first inning rally, but was the victim of a single run in the second and four in the fourth.

DuPont got single markers in the first and sixth stanzas and came within striking distance with two more tallies in a seventh inning rally.

The DuPont seventh frame surge was sparked by Dick Kline's long triple to left field which drove in two runs. Hartley then bore down to fan the last man to end the game.

Kline's solid triple was the only extra-base blow of the contest.

The next Babe Ruth League action is scheduled Thursday when GE tangles with Kiwanis. The test will start at 7:45 p. m. on the softball diamond.

S-ville Slated At Frankfort

The Frankfort aggregation currently stands at the top of the loop with a 6-0 record. Sunday the Ross County nine defeated Washington C. H., 9-5.

Mike Goliat Likes To Hit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mike Goliat has clubbed many a home run, but the one he'll probably remember most came Tuesday night against Havana's Emilio Cueche.

Cueche was attempting to walk Goliat purposely when the Montreal Royals' second baseman reached out and smacked the first wide pitch over the right field fence with two men on base. It provided the winning margin in the Royals' 7-5 victory.

Nellie Fox Doubts He'll Win Bat Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Nellie Fox, annual contender but never a winner, is convinced he'll never capture a batting title.

"Naw, I'll never win," said the veteran Chicago White Sox second baseman. "I just don't get enough walks. I come out of the dugout swinging."

"Look it up and you'll see that I've had more than 600 official times at bat in each of the last six years," Fox pointed out. "that means I've got to get an awful lot of hits. The fellow that wins the batting title usually gets around 100 walks. My average is around 60."

Cleveland Riding New Hot Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cleveland's Indians are riding their hottest streak of the season and Cal McLish is back in stride—a winner for the first time in more than a month, but still trying to shake a shutout jinx.

The big right-hander, whose lone whitewash job in the majors came eight years ago, pitched the Indians to their seventh straight success and a full-game lead in the American League race with a 4-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

It was the fifth time this season McLish has come close to nailing that long-pursued second shutout. He missed by inches when Marty Keough's seventh-inning drive ticked outfielder Rocky Colavito's glove and got away for a home run.

The New York Yankees helped Cleveland along by defeating Chicago's second place White Sox 5-1. Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington were rained out.

McLish, now 6-3, picked on his favorite pigeons. He beat the Red Sox for the fifth time in a row since last June 26, giving up six hits, walking but two and striking out six for his first complete game since May 8. He is 7-1 life against Boston.

The Indians plunked the Red Sox back into a last-place tie with Washington on a two-run homer by Dick Brown in the fifth inning against loser Ted Wills (2-2). It was Brown's first of the year, but Cleveland's 18th in the streak—one shy of the AL record for seven games held by the 1936 Yankees and 1940 Red Sox.

The Yankees moved within a single game of fourth place Baltimore behind the four-hit pitching of Art Ditmar (5-4), who won his fourth in a row. The Sox scored in the first inning on a double by

Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar's single, then managed only a pair of singles by Norm Cash the rest of the way.

Billy Pierce (7-7) was the loser, checking the Yankees on three hits until they broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth on Mickey Mantle's triple, a hit batter, Hec Lopez' double and Bobby Ricardson's sacrifice fly.

Purina Nine, Ward's Market Record Wins

Ralston Purina and Ward's Market recorded come-from-behind victories last night in Little League action at Ted Lewis Park.

Purina rallied for six runs in the third inning, after trailing 3-1, to ice its first major league win over Elks, 7-4. Ward's Market battled from a 9-4 deficit to take Lincoln Plastic, 15-11 in minor league play.

Winning hurler for Purina was John Wardell, who aided his own cause with a home run. Jim Wells took the loss for the Elks. Elks' Palmer smacked a home run.

Wardell had excellent control, failing to walk a man and fanning 11 opponents. Wells issued four walks and struck out five men.

THE ELKS' SPANGLER led his teammates in slugging with 2 for 3, which included a triple. Purina's Jeff Lutz and David Cupp each had 2 for 3.

Purina registered nine hits to the Elks four. Each squad committed three errors. Purina and The Herald are now undefeated in major league play.

Ward's jumped to a 4-1 lead, only to see it melt under an eight run second inning onslaught by Plastic and trail 9-4. Under steady scoring, Ward's tallied three in the bottom of the second and three in the third to take a 10-9 lead.

Plastic came back for two runs in the fourth to take an 11-10 lead before Ward's iced the game with a four-run fourth and added an insurance run in the bottom of the fifth. The game went the regulation six innings.

Jerry Jenkins got credit for the win and D. J. Henry was charged with the loss. Jenkins relieved starter Rodney Hedges for Ward's and Henry replaced Danny Gibbs. Pitching records found Gibbs walking six, Henry, four, Hedges, four, and Jenkins, six. Strike outs were few as Henry fanned four, Hedges, one, and Jenkins, four.

HEDGES AND BOWMAN Henry blasted the only extra base hits of the game, two doubles. Ward's collected 10 hits, four off Gibbs and six off Henry.

Lincoln Plastic was held to seven hits, four off Jenkins and three off Hedges. Ward's leads the minor league after first game play. Plastic committed seven errors and Ward's one.

Two minor league games are on tap at 5:30 p. m. today. The Circleville Savings Bank meets First National on the little diamond and the Third National squad tangles with the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the softball diamond.

Akins Schedules Comeback Bid

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Virgil Akins, who used to be Welterweight champion, hits what he hopes will be the comeback trail tonight against undefeated Luis Rodriguez, the Cuban Welter King. Akins is 7-5 favorite to stop the speedy Rodriguez in their nationally televised 10-round fight in the Miami Beach exhibition hall.

GE Downs Dupont Nine, 8-4 In Opening Babe Ruth Test

Babe Ruth League baseball play opened with a flurry last night at Ted Lewis Park as General Electric stormed to an 8-4 decision over DuPont.

GE pitcher Harold Hartley, supported by five hits on the part of his mates, went the distance for the win. A perfect peg to home plate by rightfielder Sam Weller and a circus catch by second baseman Gary George aided the victory.

game in holding the GE sluggers to five hits. Centerfielders Snyder and Barr turned in some fielding gems for the losers.

Hartley was in control throughout most of the game as he permitted only three hits. He fanned seven and walked 10, but was able to bear down when runners were on base.

PHIFER started for DuPont, but was relieved in the first after GE pushed three runs across the plate. Reeser came in to end the first inning rally, but was the victim of a single run in the second and four in the fourth.

DuPont got single markers in the first and sixth stanzas and came within striking distance with two more tallies in a seventh inning rally.

The DuPont seventh frame surge was sparked by Dick Kline's long triple to left field which drove in two runs. Hartley then bore down to fan the last man to end the game.

Shortstop Jim Wellington paced the winners at the plate, smacking two singles in three official trips. He also turned in some fancy glove work.

Kline's solid triple was the only extra-base blow of the contest.

The next Babe Ruth League action is scheduled Thursday when GE tangles with Kiwanis. The test will start at 7:45 p. m. on the softball diamond.

S-ville Slated At Frankfort

Stoutsville goes after its fifth win in six starts in the Southwest Ohio baseball league Sunday with a trip to Frankfort.

The Frankfort aggregation currently stands at the top of the loop with a 6-0 record, Sunday the Ross County nine defeated Washington C. H., 9-5.

Stoutsville, beaten only by the Chillicothe Reformatory, will be out to gain a solid hold on second place.

Manager Kenny Good's team picked up a forfeit win Sunday when Blanchester failed to show up here.

Mike Goliat Likes To Hit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mike Goliat has clubbed many a home run, but the one he'll probably remember most came Tuesday night against Havana's Emilio Cueche.

Cueche was attempting to walk Goliat purposely when the Montreal Royals' second baseman reached out and smacked the first wide pitch over the right field fence with two men on base. It provided the winning margin in the Royals' 7-5 victory.

Nellie Fox Doubts He'll Win Bat Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Nellie Fox, annual contender but never a winner, is convinced he'll never capture a batting title.

"Naw, I'll never win," said the veteran Chicago White Sox second baseman. "I just don't get enough walks. I come out of the dugout swinging.

"Look it up and you'll see that I've had more than 600 official times at bat in each of the last six years," Fox pointed out. "That means I've got to get an awful lot of hits. The fellow that wins the batting title usually gets around 100 walks. My average is around 60."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

His Teeth-Clicking Irks Her

DEAR ABBY: I have been keeping company with a gentleman farmer who has plenty of money and a good reputation. He's a snappy dresser and the life of the party. I am still considering his proposal of marriage. I am almost ashamed to tell you what is standing in the way because this shouldn't make any difference. But it does.

He slips his false teeth forward and then sucks them back into his mouth. He makes a clucking sound that just about drives me crazy. When I think of having to look at that and listen to him click and cluck the rest of my life, I get cold feet. Should I try to overlook it, or should I hint around?

DEAR COLD: Your friend should revisit the dentist who made the "castanets" for him. There is something wrong with the fit. If he likes you well enough to propose marriage, he'll accept your suggestion in the proper spirit.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is constantly trying to out-do the radio. She thinks whenever a song comes on, it just isn't complete without her bleating in and you just can't shut her up. I wouldn't mind so much if she could sing, but she can't stay on tune. This turns me up. What could I say to her that won't hurt her feelings?

GOING BATTY
DEAR GOING: Gently clap your hand over her mouth and say, "Shhh-Honey, I want to hear this!" (P. S. for added protection wear a thick leather glove.)

DEAR ABBY: After 24 years of marriage I found out my husband had an affair with another woman. She has a wonderful husband and through his friends (SHE hasn't any) I have learned that she has one affair after another and they mean nothing to her. She gets to the men through their wives as she is very clever and vivacious. As soon as she conquers the husband, she drops the wife. My husband admitted the affair but said it was over long ago. I feel the only way I can hold my head up and keep my self-respect is to leave him. Am I right?

TROUBLED
DEAR TROUBLED: You know you are wrong. Forgiving and forgetting pay far greater dividends than "leaving" to preserve your "self-respect." Help your husband bury his mistake by never mentioning it again. You'll both be much happier.

DEAR ABBY: Aunt Jennie raised me because my parents separated when I was a baby, so I think of her as my mother. I have been married 16 years and Aunt Jennie has always made her home with me. I can't tell you how dear she is to me.

Lately she has been acting very peculiar. First she started putting salt in her coffee and emptying the ash trays in my percolator. She likes to light matches and will light one after another till there isn't a match left in the house. This worries me terribly. She refuses to go to a doctor. Have you any suggestions?

NIECE
DEAR NIECE: If Aunt Jennie refuses to go to a doctor, ask a doctor to come to see her. She definitely needs professional help, and your family doctor is a good start.

Ohio Senate Votes Against Old Blue Law

Officials of the retirement systems have expressed reluctance to invest pension money in right-of-way purchase, even though the Highway Department would be required to redeem the investments within five years and the rate of interest would be subject to negotiation.

The Sunday blue laws became a part of Ohio lore a half dozen years before Ohio entered the union. The move to junk the Sunday fishing ban would be the first breach in the dike. Other proposals to modify or repeal other laws banning unnecessary commercial activities on Sunday are pending.

In other actions:
The Senate accepted, but the House refused to approve, a conference committee report to settle differences between the two houses on a bill to require school children to be immunized against five diseases, including polio. Another conference committee will be appointed.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House bills to:
Permit a second 44-day horse race meeting each year at tracks in counties of more than 700,000 population to permit River Downs track in Cincinnati to meet Kentucky competition.

Permit revocation of state-issued licenses upon an advertiser's conviction for false and fraudulent advertising.

Create a three-member state-county car-marking and uniform commission to standardize them for all 88 county sheriffs by 1961.
The Senate also virtually completed legislative action on a bill which would make sheriff's deputies called to duty in another county eligible for workmen's compensation if injured in the line of duty.

The House completed passage of a Senate bill to declare Columbus Day a legal holiday in Ohio.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Allow general health districts to regulate air pollution.
The Senate, by unanimous vote, put on next November's statewide ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to lift the present 50 per cent limit on cities' sales outside their boundaries of water and sewer services.

Sen. William Baker (D - Montgomery) asserted the limit should be raised to give cities the opportunity to entice industry to nearby locations with promises of plentiful water.

The Senate defeated a proposed amendment by Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton) which would have given the Legislature power to establish reasonable rates if cities try to gouge their suburban neighbors.
The House Elections (Federal Relations) Committee recommended for passage a Disalle-backed bill to create a State Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The House Organization of State Government Committee recommended for passage a Senate-approved bill to establish a state motto: "With God All Things Are Possible."

Ad Expert Says Let Bank Handle All Family Bills

DALLAS (AP)—Let the bank pay the family's monthly bills and everybody will benefit, a Dallas advertising executive, E. B. Andrews, said. Writing in The American Banker, a trade publication, Andrews proposed having the customer send all his charge account bills to the bank. The bank would handle the accounts in one of two ways:

Under the first plan, the customer would authorize the bank to pay bills as they come in, up to a pre-set limit.

Under the second plan, the bank would send the customer a list of all bills at the end of the month. The customer would return the list with a notation of how much he wanted paid on each account.

Andrews said the plans would cut the number of checks written by the average family from 25 to 5 or 6 per month. Businesses, he said, would benefit through elimination of thousands of bills, envelopes, payment notations and individual deposits.

Western Auto Store Here Boon to City

There's a real American story in the Western Auto store, 124 W. Main St.

First, the store is part of a chain of more than 4,000 franchised dealers and company-owned stores, which began in 1909 with a $5 investment.

Locally, John Magill, 109 Seyfert Ave., opened one of the first associate stores in Ohio May 20, 1936. Today he has a fine family and a thriving business, a boon to Circleville.

George Pepperdine, a young Kansas City bookkeeper, saw an opportunity in 1909, when automobiles were delivered without windshields, fenders and headlights. He started a mail-order business on a $5 investment.

The company grew and Pepperdine sold out in 1916, but Western Auto continued to grow through the years. Today there are 380 company-owned stores and 3,700 franchised dealers, of which the local store is one.

SINCE 1936 Magill has maintained the local Western Auto store with the same philosophy as Pepperdine — variety of merchandise, quality and price.

The Magill family is an asset to the community. There's Mrs. Magill, Erna, who maintains the home; Johnny, a sixth grader at Atwater School; Margy, who was graduated from Ohio State University last week; Roger, employed at the local General Electric Lamp Plant; and Charles, who received a degree of doctor of medicine at Ohio State last week and will intern at General Hospital, Denver, Colo.

This year the Western Auto Stores are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the company.

Physician Gets Term in Pen

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—A physician accused of receiving stolen cattle and sheep was sentenced to 1 to 7 years in Ohio Penitentiary today.

Dr. Crawford Pope, 51, of Rt. 3, Cardington, who has been physician at the Shelby Air Force Depot, appeared for sentencing before Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford. He had been convicted on the charge of receiving animals stolen in Morrow County by rustlers.

Judge Rutherford said that since Pope has indicated he will appeal, he would suspend the sentence until the appeal is filed, probably sometime in November.

Meanwhile, Pope will be free on $3,000 bond.

Ohio Senate Votes Against Old Blue Law

Officials of the retirement systems have expressed reluctance to invest pension money in right-of-way purchase, even though the Highway Department would be required to redeem the investments within five years and the rate of interest would be subject to negotiation.

The Sunday blue laws became a part of Ohio lore a half dozen years before Ohio entered the union. The move to junk the Sunday fishing ban would be the first breach in the dike. Other proposals to modify or repeal other laws banning unnecessary commercial activities on Sunday are pending.

In other actions:
The Senate accepted, but the House refused to approve, a conference committee report to settle differences between the two houses on a bill to require school children to be immunized against five diseases, including polio. Another conference committee will be appointed.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House bills to:
Permit a second 44-day horse race meeting each year at tracks in counties of more than 700,000 population to permit River Downs track in Cincinnati to meet Kentucky competition.

Permit transfer of racing permits from one track to another.
Permit revocation of state-issued licenses upon an advertiser's conviction for false and fraudulent advertising.

Create a three-member state-county car-marking and uniform commission to standardize them for all 88 county sheriffs by 1961.
The Senate also virtually completed legislative action on a bill which would make sheriff's deputies called to duty in another county eligible for workmen's compensation if injured in the line of duty.

The House completed passage of a Senate bill to declare Columbus Day a legal holiday in Ohio.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:
Create an advisory board to study causes and treatment of alcoholism.

Allow general health districts to regulate air pollution.
The Senate, by unanimous vote, put on next November's statewide ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to lift the present 50 per cent limit on cities' sales outside their boundaries of water and sewer services.

Sen. William Baker (D-Montgomery) asserted the limit should be raised to give cities the opportunity to entice industry to nearby locations with promises of plentiful water.

The Senate defeated a proposed amendment by Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton) which would have given the Legislature power to establish reasonable rates if cities try to gouge their suburban neighbors.

The House Elections (Federal Relations) Committee recommended for passage a DiSalle-backed bill to create a State Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The House Organization of State Government Committee recommended for passage a Senate-approved bill to establish a state motto: "With God All Things Are Possible."

Washington C.H. Orders X-Rays

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—A mass call for chest X-rays for approximately 200 students and 40 teachers at Washington High School here is being issued by School Supt. W. A. Smith.

The action follows discovery that a member of the teaching staff had tuberculosis in an active stage during the past school year.

Smith told the school board that the ailing instructor submitted his resignation in April but completed the term and didn't disclose until the last day of school that he had received word from the Veterans Administration that a physical examination showed he was tubercular.

The teacher has since entered a veterans' hospital at Cincinnati for treatment, Smith said.
